DAMAGE CLAIMS ONE MILLION IN LONG BEACH PIER FATALITY WHERE THIRTY-SIX WERE KILLED

Grand Jury Investigation Commenced at Once to Find Cause of Disaster

TWO OTHER DEATHS ARE EXPECTED TO-DAY

Vibrations of Thousands of Feet in Step Would Cause
Immense Pressure

CITY AUTHORITIES TO RESIST ALL CLAIMS

Long Beach, Cal., May 26.—Prospective damage suits aggregating probably $1,000,000 or more and a grand jury investigation, engaged the attention of city officials to-day as the most probable outcome of the disaster on Saturday when 36 persons lost their lives in the collapse of a portion of the municipal pier just after the close of the British "Empire Day" pageant.
The list of dead is expected to be further increased before to-morrow by the death of Miss Marguerite Reed, aged 12, of Long Beach, whose back was broken, and of Wm. Cooper, of Pasadena, one of the two veterans of the Crimean war, who were in the van of the parade.

While City Attorney Long was occupied with the legal phase of the disaster's aftermath to-day, Mayor Hatch, members of the city council and of the board of public works, conferred with District Attorney John D.
Fredericks with reference to the grand jury inquiry. The object of the inquiry is to fix responsibility for the condition of the pier, a section of which went down under the weight of human beings, estimated at not less than 750 tons.

On the order of the district attorney
two officers were placed on guard yesterday over the ruined section of the pier, with instructions to keep watch constantly, and to allow no tampering.
Several broken timbers which are expected to show the general condition of the pier and aid in developing evidence of negligence, if there be any, were taken out of the pier to-day and locked up under official seal.

The weakness of the pier, which was built eight years ago and never repaired in that particular portion, is believed to have been due to decay caused by the action of salt air on wood and its iron fasteners and support. However, it was decided that a much stronger structure might have been wrecked under the same circumstances.

Military men pointed out that the vibrations created by the measured tread of thousands of feet caused a tremendous strain upon the supports, which already had been heavily burdened by the crowd thronged about the auditorium doors awaiting admittance, and they recalled that military columns comprising large numbers of men always broke step when crossing even collapse or serious damage. About 65, however, were seriously hurt, most of them being still in hospitals here and in Los Angeles.

WAR AEROPLANE ARRIVES.

Nogales, Ariz., May 26.—Aviator Di-der Masson and his war aeroplane arrived to-day at the front above Guaymas, and will begin operations at once against the gunboats Guerrero lying in Guaymas harbor, says a report reaching here. Simultaneously the insurgent troops will move against the gulf port town.

GOVERNOR MOUNTS GUARD.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 26.—Armed with rifle and revolver, as regulations require, Governor George W. P. Hunt mounted guard on the penitentiary walls at Florence for two hours yesterday while the convicts and their regular guards enjoyed a concert by vaudeville performers in the prison mess hall.

THIRTY-SIX DEAD

The following is the list of the dead identified:
Mrs. August Barts, Long Beach; Virgil Bayless, four, Los Angeles; Thos. Beck, Long Beach; David Scott Black, ten, Glendale; Mrs. Martha J. Burnett, Long Beach; Mrs. Isabelle Baugh, Long Beach; Mrs. George
Chafor, Los Angeles; Mrs. Sarah
Jane Cheshire, Los Angeles; Mrs.
Richard George Dowle, Pasadena; Mrs. Anne L. Eales, Los Angeles; George Ernest Eales,
Los Angeles; Mrs. Mollie Gates,
Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. Arthur C.
Hells, Long Beach; Mrs. A. K.
Hill, Orange; Miss Lilly M.
Holme, Denver; Mrs. Ida Ingraham, Pasadena; Mrs. C. H. Lawrence, wife of Rev. C. H. Lawrence, Los Angeles; Mrs. Warren
C. Lett, Long Beach; Dorothy
Lett, Long Beach; Harry Lett,
seven, Long Beach; Miss Anna
Longfellow, Pasadena; Mrs.
Frank Mattles, Los Angeles;
Mrs. W. P. McDonald, Compton;
Mrs. Fannie Pace McGee, Long
Beach; Mrs. D. M. McSparron, Long Beach; Miss Frances Harriet Newell, Kenosha, Wis.; Mrs.

Mrs. D. E. Wallace, Long Beach;
Mrs. Jane Wyvel, Los Angeles;
Ethel Wyvel, Los Angeles.

GRAFT ALLEGED IN PIER CONSTRUCTION

Second Trial of Losee Never Held but $1,000 Paid to City Treasury

Long Beach, Cal., May 26.—
The evidence to be presented to the coroner's jury, which will open on Thursday, will bear directly upon the question of who was responsible for the condition of the structure, which proved too weak to withstand the weight of several thousand men, women and children assembled to celebrate the birthday anniversary of the late Queen Victoria. Several construction engineers began an official inspection and investigation to-day.
The coroner's jury will go into all phases of the disaster and will delve into the history of the municipal pier and the city auditorium, the construction of which was accomplished, it is charged by graft. The structures were completed in 1905 and 1906. J. B. Losee, a member of the city council at that time, was accused of graft. The same charge was made against Mayor Eno.
But Losee was the only man brought to trial. The jury disagreed and without going to trial a second time Losee turned $1,000 into the city treasury. No action was taken against Baird and the structures as built were accepted.
The allegation that since the building of the pier it never had been systematically inspected also will be probed by the coroner's jury.

One of the principal witnesses before the coroner's jury will be James Twombly, member of the Long Beach board of public works, who, according to Mayor Hatch and his colleagues on the works board, was charged with the duty of inspecting public buildings.
Daughters of the Empire and Sons of St. George, the two principal organizations which had charge of the Empire Day celebration which ended so tragically, started a campaign today for the relief of the victims. While those seriously injured numbered not more than 65, nearly 200 were injured sufficiently to partially disable them,
and aid will be given them.

PRIVY COUNCIL APPEALS.

London, May 26.—Fifteen appeals from Canada will be heard by the Privy Council in June and July. The Canadian Pacific Railway is concerned in three appeals. The lawyers here say that the existing machinery of the council is being strained to the utmost, and fresh judicial strength ought to be obtained without delay.

CANADIAN CADETS WIN.

London, May 26.—Canadian cadets won the Duke of Wellington's cup and gold medals for rapid firing, being eighteen points ahead of the Civil Service. In two other matches Canada was beaten by Lord Roberts' boys.
Sir Charles Wakefield gave a luncheon at the Guild Hall on Saturday to the ten cadets from Canada.

PROROGATION JUNE FIFTH IS PROBABLE

House of Commons Takes Up Contract of Much Work in Short Time

PREMIER ANSWERS ON PARCELS POST BILL

General MacKenzie's Resignation Referred to by Premier in Reply to Questions

COL. CROWE IS STILL IN CANADIAN SERVICE

Ottawa, Ont., May 26.—Parliament started in to work this morning with the determination of bringing about prorogation by Thursday, June 5, if possible. The contract is a big one, and there is still much to be done, but the members are hopeful that they will be off to their homes by that date.
The probability of the parcels post bill being dropped was again suggested when Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux asked the prime minister if it was proposed to proceed with this legislation and the wireless telegraph contract with the British syndicate this year. Postmaster-General Pelletier was not in the House, but Premier Borden said that the minister had not given him any notice to the effect that the parcels post bill would not be proceeded with. Members on both sides of the House, Mr. Borden said, had suggested that legislation should be cut down in order to bring about prorogation at an early date.

The premier did not refer to the wireless telegraph bill, but in the absence from the House of the minister of militia answered a number of questions put by E. M. MacDonald in regard to the resignation of General
MacKenzie, chief of staff.
Mr. Borden said that General Mac-Kenzie was appointed to the position of chief of staff on November 2, 1910, after consultation with the War Office. The imperial authorities recommended him for the post. He placed his resignation in the hands of the minister on April 7, 1913, and the resignation was accepted on April 21st. The general did not give any reason for resigning. Mr. Borden added that the resignation will take effect on October 31st and the successor to General MacKenzie has not yet been named. There has been no communication with the imperial authorities with regard to the matter.

The premier informed the House that Colonel Crowe, the commandant of the Royal Military College, has not resigned. As a matter of fact, a suggestion for the extension of his term in service, which expires next October, had been unofficially made by the minister.
Mr. Sinclair, of Guysboro, asked if the government proposes to introduce legislation to carry out a pledge by Mr.
Borden in a certain manifesto in which he said: "We declare for such reforms in the mode of selecting future members of the Senate as will make that chamber a more useful and representative legislative body."

SEAT IN DANGER

Unparalleled Keeness Marks
Australian Federal Election Campaign Closing Friday

London, May 26.—A Melbourne dispatch says that the general election campaign which terminates Friday is being carried on with almost unparalleled keenness. The Liberals are making a strenuous attack on the country constituencies which were captured by the Labor party in 1910. The Labor party admit the possibility of losses,
but are confident that they will be returning with a working majority. Premier Fisher's seat is imperilled by a popular Liberal candidate. Both Sir John Forrest and Sir John Quick are having severe struggles with Liberals. The innovation of Saturday polling is welcomed by all parties, also the extension of the hour for the closing of polls to 8 o'clock. Some of the results will be known Saturday.

IMPRISED FOR THREATS.

New York, May 26.—Jacob Dunn and Seelye Davenport, of Wharton, N. J., two woodchoppers who sent threatening letters to President Wilson before he assumed office, were sentenced to Trenton state prison to-day. Dunn received five years and Davenport two years.

WINNIPEG MOTOR-BUSSES.

Winnipeg, May 26.—Motor busses for Winnipeg within three months, of the double-deck type, like those used in London, is the promise made by a new corporation which is being formed in this city.

MANY CELEBRATIONS HELD ON EMPIRE DAY

Thousands of Children Salute
the Flag Throughout England Saturday

EARL MEATH SPEAKS AT THE GUILD HALL

Imperial Defence Subject of Speeches at the Colonial Institute Dinner

AUSTRALIA AND ADELIE LAND REMEMBER DAY

London, May 26.—The celebration of Empire Day throughout England was in every way satisfactory, and thousands of children saluted the flag. At the Guild hall celebration, Earl Meath, father of the Empire Day movement, stated that millions of children were honoring the flag, not for the purpose of brandishing the sword, but in order to make the Empire and the world better and happier.

Another celebration was held at the stock exchange, where proceedings were inaugurated by singing the National Anthem. The government buildings and public offices did not fly any flags, at the express order of the government.

A dinner was held at the colonial institute, at which Earl Grey presided.
Lord Sydenham, in proposing the toast of "Imperial Defence," said that the colonies had accepted compulsory service and hoped that the mother country would soon settle this question. At Hon. A. H. Peake, Liberal premier of South Australia, gave credit to Hon.
Joseph Chamberlain for teaching the colonies to realize the imperial idea. He quoted the Times, which had laid stress on the fact that Australia did not wait to ask Britain if she was right in her defence scheme, but had stated that she would help and inquire if she were right afterward.

The premier of Victoria, Hon. William Watt, in proposing the toast of the colonial institute, said that the Australians were not dissenters, but they wanted the Southern Pacific to themselves because they were peaceable,
and wanted to maintain peace there.
They had approached the defence question in this spirit.

In referring to emigration from England, Mr. Watt said that the Australians had secured a fair share of Britain's wealth, and Australia wanted the balance.

ALLIES SATISFIED WITH PEACE TERMS

Turkey Cedes Island of Cyprus to Great Britain Under Anglo-Turkish Entente

London, May 26.—The allies informed Osman Nizam Pasha at a joint meeting of the Balkan and Ottoman peace delegates to-day that they had no intention of asking for further modification of the peace terms already put forward. This announcement is regarded as an important step in the direction of peace, as the Turks anticipated that if any modifications were suggested it would leave the door open for further demands on the part of the allies.

Turkey has definitely ceded the island of Cyprus to Great Britain, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Express, who claims to have received a formal statement to that effect from the best-informed source.
The cession of the island is said to have been due to clauses in the Anglo-Turkish entente.

The strained relations between the Balkan allies show little improvement.
A Times dispatch from Athens says that the Greek fleet while passing Kavata was fired upon by Bulgarian shore batteries.

The incident following the severe fighting at Salonica, has created a painful impression at Athens, and the Greek government is making urgent representations to the Bulgarians. The danger of war between the allies distracts attention from the moment from the peace negotiations with Turkey.

HUSH MONEY FUND PROTECTS ACCUSED

San Francisco, May 26.—The first of a series of trials growing out of the relations of the police with a gang of bunco men known as the forty thieves, began to-day in the superior court before Judge Dunne, with Frank Esola, a suspended patrolman, as the defendant. Both sides immediately began the work of selecting a jury.

Because of the charges made by convicted members of the gang, and the assertion of the district attorney that he has against him a police hush fund of $50,000, the case has aroused great public interest, which in turn has been reflected in political hostility ramify-ing into the mayor's office, the grand jury room and police headquarters.
Esola is charged specifically with the larceny of $900 from Charles Folda in December, 1912. Five other officers are under indictment for grand larceny. Four of these pleaded not guilty, and the fifth is due to plead later.

VICE-ADMIRAL C. E. KINGSMILL

DIRECTOR OF CANADIAN NAVAL AFFAIRS NOW RAISED TO RANK OF VICE-ADMIRAL

London, May 26.—The Admiralty announces the promotion of Rear-Admiral C. E. Kingsmill, R. N., retired, to vice-admiralship.

Vice-Admiral Kingsmill is now director of naval matters for the Dominion of Canada with headquarters at Ottawa. He retired from the British naval service for the purpose of taking the Canadian appointment.

BRITISH NOBLE TO FARM IN CARIBBOO

Vancouver, May 26.—The Enterprize ranch at 14-Mile House, Cariboo district, owned by J. P. Murphy, has been sold to a British nobleman, the consideration being over $100,000. The new owner purposes engaging in stockraising on a very extensive scale.

The ranch is one of the show places of the district. It consists of 2,500 acres, a large portion of which is under cultivation, the remainder comprising wild hay meadows and cattle ranges. The ranch was located by Dennis Murphy, father of J. P.
Murphy in 1861, and has been in the possession of the family ever since.
It is stocked with 400 head of cattle and forty horses, which now pass into the possession of the new owner, who has also purchased three adjacent ranches. Thoroughbred stock, both horses and cattle, will be imported from England.

MRS. PANKHURST IS BACK IN HOLLOWAY

Militant Suffragette Rearrested
Under Cat and Mouse Law to Complete Sentence

RIOTS AT MEETING IN VICTORIA PARK SUNDAY

Children Are Trampled Upon
When Sylvia Pankhurst's
Truck is Stormed

ONE ARREST MADE ON LINKS AT ST. ANDREW'S

London, May 26.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader who was released from Holo-way jail in licence on April 12, owing to the serious condition of her health arising from her hunger strike was rearrested to-day when she was leaving the house, where she has been staying.

The House of Commons passed a new law this year known as the "cat and mouse bill," permitting the prison authorities to release suffragettes suffering from the effects of hunger strikes, and at the end of a short period to rearrest them without warrant and make them serve the remainder of their original sentence.
Mrs. Pankhurst's licence released her for fourteen days, but it was then extended in consequence of her feeble condition.

Victoria Park, in the West End, was the scene of rioting yesterday, when trade unionists and Socialists attempted to hold a demonstration in support of votes for working women. The crowd stormed a truck on which were Sylvia Pankhurst and other militant suffragettes, and dragged it outside the park.

Mounted and foot police by repeated charges finally drove the crowd away.
Men and women fainted in the crush,
and children were trampled upon.
There were innumerable free fights,
and ambulance corps were kept busy.
Suffragettes paraded with their colors,
the standard bearers wearing red liberty caps. This caused more disorder.
On Saturday suffragettes attempted to blow up Wheatsley hall, at Doncaster, owned by Sir William Cook.
The place was unoccupied. An unexploded bomb and suffrage literature were found under a staircase.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 26.—Two militant suffragettes attempted early to-day to damage the golf links here, and so interfere with the opening of play for the amateur golf championship of the world.

The women were intercepted near the seventeenth green by the night guards, who have been on duty in considerable force for over a week owing to threats of militant leaders. One of the women escaped, but the other was caught. She was released after being searched.

The weather was perfect for the opening of to-day's matches.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT HAS LESSON IN THE HOLLOWNESS OF FAME

Chicago, May 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, one-time president of the United States, but now a private citizen, occupied two hours and forty minutes in Chicago yesterday in learning how hollow is fame. He received his lesson at the door of the Lincoln Park animal house. His tutor was a despised "sparrow cop" who the colonel decided later on, must have voted for Taft.

The animal house closes at 5 o'clock and the officer refused to open it to the Roosevelt party arrived a few minutes after 5. Roosevelt explained who he was.

"Yes, I've heard of you," said the officer. "You cannot go in. We close at 5 o'clock."

Colonel Roosevelt left later in the day accompanied by a retinue of friends and witnesses for Marquette, Mich. His suit for $10,000 damages, charging libel against George A.
Newett, publisher of the Ishpeming
Iron Ore began there this afternoon.

The suit arises out of the publication
by Newett last October of an editorial accusing Colonel Roosevelt of drunkenness.

SIDI GARBA FIGHT UNDER CENSORSHIP

General Ganhretti Received False Information on Which He Made Attack

Chiasco, Switzerland, May 25.—The strict censorship which the Italian government has imposed on all news relating to the Italian defeat at Sidi Garba on May 16, has made it difficult to obtain exact information on the recent reverses in that territory. It has been learned, however, that the disaster at Sidi Garba was due to a well-laid plan of the Arabs. An Italian workman named Machiavelli, who had been taken prisoner by the Arabs, was allowed to escape after being carefully primed with false information which he carried to General Ganhretti. The general, on the strength of the workman's report that the enemy was small, decided to attack alone.

Accordingly he divided his 3,000 men in three columns, supported only by four guns and a battery of howitzers. The first dash of victory, the Italians were resting, when suddenly each column was set upon from front and rear and cut off from the others.

The Italians showed admirable courage and endurance. Some of the companies lost all of their officers. One advance detachment lost thirty-six out of forty men. Colonel Magdalena was shot as he lay dying, writing a report praising his men and recommending them for promotion.

Rome, May 25.—Twenty thousand troops have been ordered to proceed at the earliest possible moment to Sidi Garba. Tripoli, where the Italians recently suffered severe reverses at the hands of the Arabs.

The government is determined to crush the rebel Arabs in that district, where, on May 16, the forces under General Ganhretti came into action with 30,000 Arabs, suffering heavy casualties. The Italian commander, on the arrival of the reinforcements, will begin an energetic campaign.

PRINCE ERNEST TO RULE IN BRUNSWICK

German Emperor Makes Announcement at Banquet Following Royal Wedding

KING AND QUEEN WILL MAKE STAY AT BERLIN

Berlin, May 25.—Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and Princess Victoria Luise of Prussia, only daughter of the German Emperor, whose wedding occurred Saturday with all the pomp and brilliancy of the most ceremonial court of Europe, will ascend the throne of the Duchy of Brunswick at an early date. The direct line of rulers of the Duchy became extinct in 1884.

It was the will of the German Emperor that the deposed house of Hanover and the house of Hohenzollern should be reconciled, and this announcement was made at a banquet at the end of the following day, in which he exhorted the Prince and Princess to devote their lives to the service of their future subjects, and expressed in pretty phrase the general belief that the marriage was a love affair.

Emperor William spoke to an audience purely of royal blood, the diplomatic representatives, the ministers and other guests dining in other rooms.

The stately torch dance formed a fitting conclusion to a series of brilliant pictures. This followed the historic ceremonial, except that the candles borne before the bride were carried by twelve pages, instead of by the ministers, who were no longer willing to figure in such a role.

At the end of the wedding ceremony the Emperor and the bride were almost in tears, and the Emperor showed a father's deep emotion. The two elder sons of the Crown Prince, in sailor suits, proudly assisted Princess Victoria with the Bible which the chaplain, Dr. Dryander, presented to the bride during the ceremony. The Emperor, accompanied by the Prince and Princess, drove in an open car through cheering crowds to the station, from which the bridal pair proceeded by special train to the Emperor's lodge at Habersacker, where they will pass part of their honeymoon.

At 10.30 o'clock Emperor Nicholas left for St. Petersburg. King George and Queen Mary, it is expected, will remain in Berlin several days.

SECOND CANAL SOON SAYS DR. CASTRILLO

Believes United States Government Will Construct Nicaraguan Waterway

SHORTEN ROUTE BY
TWO THOUSAND MILES

Washington, D. C., May 25.—Another great Atlantic-Pacific waterway, making a ship route between the eastern and western coasts of the United States, two thousand miles shorter than through the Panama canal, will be built soon by the United States, is the opinion of Dr. Salvador Castriello, retiring Nicaraguan minister. In a statement yesterday Castriello said that he believed that a canal treaty would be negotiated between the United States and Nicaragua, and that a canal would be constructed across his country.

The canal treaty, which is an inheritance from the Taft administration, was negotiated by Minister Weitzel last winter, and has received the approval of the Nicaraguan government.

By its terms, Nicaragua for $3,000,000 would grant the United States the exclusive right to construct a canal across Nicaragua by way of the San Juan river and Lake Nicaragua. This government would have a right to acquire a coaling station in the Bay of Fonseca on the Pacific side.

"Of course, the pending treaty may be modified," said Dr. Castriello, "but I am greatly encouraged by Secretary of State Bryan's assurance that he takes a broad view of the subject, after a careful examination of the provisions of the proposed convention."

"After all, the Panama canal is of military and strategic importance, but when it is realized that a Nicaraguan canal would shorten the route to the coast by an additional 2,000 miles, I am convinced that it will be built."

IDENTIFY MAN WHO LOST HIS MEMORY

Berkeley, Cal., May 25.—Though he could not remember his name and his past was a blank, physicians were able to-day to establish the identity of a man who had been brought two days ago to the Roosevelt hospital. They induced him to write the name, Mrs. Emma Mohundro. The patient could not tell whether it was the name of his wife, mother or daughter, but when later he wrote Clarkston, telegrams were dispatched and it was learned that he had written the name of his mother.

The man is H. L. Mohundro, son of W. T. Mohundro, of Clarkston, Wash. He was found wandering about the streets here.

HUERTA CHAFING AT HIS OFFICIAL BONDS

No Surprise if He Dons Uniform in Preference to Tri-Colored Band

Mexico City, May 25.—General Huerta is chafing under the restraint imposed by the duties and ceremonies attending his office as president, and some of his old friends in the army will not be surprised if one day he throws off the tri-colored band and again dons the military uniform. It is said that the president, not fully satisfied with the progress which is being made against the revolutionists, is seriously considering the resignation of his office in order personally to direct the campaign.

That the army has not made any great advancement in restoring peace is evident, and Huerta, who planned and carried out the campaign against Orozco a year ago, is pardoned by his intimates for believing that he could do the job more expeditiously. "I am not a man of governmental affairs," said Huerta recently in the course of an impromptu after-dinner speech. "I am a soldier, and every time that I see a body of men entraining, I long to go with them into the field."

Who would take Huerta's place as provisional president is a matter of much speculation. His inability to find a man who would satisfy the people and display the requisite executive ability is what may prevent Mexico's soldier-president from abandoning the palace.

To place Felix Diaz in the presidency probably would not improve the situation greatly, and certainly it would not please Diaz, since his occupancy of the provisional post would greatly lessen his chances of holding it as an elected incumbent. The selection of Francisco de la Barra would please many of his intimate friends, but the Catholic party has its eye on de la Barra as a candidate for the presidency at some future time when elections can be held. Once it was suggested that General Geronimo Trevino take the provisional presidency. But the general is getting on in years, and in addition he does not want the place.

Whether Huerta would do any better, however, in the field than his officers now are doing is regarded as by no means certain. He probably has an influence over the army greater than that of any other general; but the army to-day is a poor thing compared with that left by Porfirio Diaz, notwithstanding that Diaz's army was far less efficient than he considered it. It has been demonstrated that the army is not a unit of loyalty, and the introduction of its ranks of thousands of ex-rebels appears not to have greatly strengthened its loyalty, and to have lowered discipline and efficiency. As minister of war Huerta might direct all phases of the campaign, but as a simple general in the field he could direct only a small part, and what he might accomplish in one region might easily be offset by what transpired in other parts of the republic.

Huerta and Diaz believed in February that they had restored Mexico to a peaceful condition, and they probably did not dream that the counter-revolution ever would assume the proportions it has to-day. There is no doubt now, however, that the number of rebels is greater than the number of the government's troops, and it has become practically a matter of money which side will win. May began with the government still on the defensive, but making promises of the early inauguration of a terrible campaign against the rebels. It was believed in the capital that by that time the rebels would have exhausted their supplies of ammunition and would be unable to buy more, or to get it across the American boundary line, even if they possessed the necessary means to purchase it. Money is not plentiful in the rebel treasury, but neither is it that of the national government. So far as getting guns and ammunition across the line is concerned, the rebels appear to be having less difficulty than did either Madero or Orozco, and Mexicans in the capital are open in their denunciation of the Washington government for not maintaining a stricter patrol.

USED MOTOR CARS TO SMUGGLE SACCHARINE

Richest Woman in Switzerland Made Fortune Before Imprisonment

Berlin, May 25.—The richest woman in the city of Constance, Switzerland, Madame Osel, known as the "Queen of the Smugglers," has just been arrested and given fifteen months' imprisonment for introducing saccharine into Germany.

For years Madame Osel has been directing the operations of a band of smugglers who derived good profit from this contraband trade. She made not less than 150 per cent. on a considerable capital, and she is rated by the commercial agencies as worth $300,000. Her favorite method has been to send her agents across the frontier in motor cars. They traveled as tourists, and their cars were constructed with secret receptacles in which the saccharine was hidden.

On a recent visit to Lindau, Madame Osel was recognized by the German police. She jumped into her car and started for the Swiss frontier at full speed, but a telephone message beat her to the barrier. The gate was closed. She recognized the inevitable and quickly submitted to arrest.

Summer Cooking

Which is best? A coal that gets to work slowly, needs constant poking, keeps you standing over your stove on hot Summer afternoons, and then burns all the evenings, or a coal that lights at once, gets the oven hot in a few moments, burns brightly with a clear flame, needs no attention, does your cooking in half the time and leaves you free to enjoy the twilight hours?

If you want a coal which fulfils all the latter functions you need our Nut Coal. It's the perfect Summer coal, and it costs you less.

SCOUTS' PARADE IS EFFICIENCY TEST

Boys Demonstrate Value of Training in All Lines

MORE SCOUTMASTERS ARE BADLY WANTED

Salute The Flag in Presence of Large Gathering of People

There may have been a falling off in numbers of the Boy Scouts through the lack of trained scoutmasters—and there have certainly been larger parades than that of Saturday—but there was no absence of enthusiasm or of proficiency on the part of the hundred and fifty Scouts who turned out to participate in the celebration of Victoria Day. With the leadership of their experienced men to assist those who are giving their time to the movement the parade state could easily be brought up to what it was a year or two ago.

The Officers. Assembling on Cook street, south of Yates street, the boys wheeled into position at the head of the parade, led off by the bugle band, which was recently organized under the leadership of Bandmaster J. Stacky. The parade was in command of Captain H. H. Woolson, district commissioner, with Scoutmaster J. B. Andrews as adjutant. There were boys present from Troops One, Two, Three, Four, Six, Seven, Eight, Ten and Eleven, and from the Strawberryvale and Metchoke troops. Troop Seven had the honor of escorting the flag, which has been in their possession since the last parade, and as they again had the largest number on the field the flag remains in their care. Troop One, reorganized within the last few months, had every member out.

Salute the Flag. On reaching the park the Scouts moved on to the rising ground south of the Burns monument. The flag was run up and saluted and then, on the bugle signal to scatter, the boys scurried to cover in the broom. As quickly as they had disappeared they reappeared when the bugles sounded the rally, giving their patrol cries as they ran to form in column.

The Inspection. Lieut.-Col. J. A. Hall, Scout commissioner for the province of British Columbia, inspected the troops closely as to bearing, neatness and equipment, and expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with the appearance of the boys. Following his several troops moved off under their own commanders to give independent displays of Scout work. These were followed with great interest by the large crowd which had assembled to watch the boys, and there were many hearty expressions of approval. The Scouts did credit to themselves and to the Scoutmasters who have given their time to the training of the lads.

First Troop, under Captain Woolson, gave an exhibition of bandaging, knotting and blindfold boxing, the latter being conducted inside a regular roped arena and creating great amusement, especially when the boxers hit out at the spectators around the ropes. The boys in this troop are all young, but their work was well done.

Second Troop, under the direction of Scoutmaster Godson, put on a camp scene. They pitched a tent in quick time, made preparations for lighting a fire and cooking a meal, and then showed some of the "lighter side of camp life by a boxing competition. A display of signaling and field telegraphing was given by part of Third Troop, under Scoutmaster Edie, both Morse and semaphore being used. Other members of the troop showed what they could do in giving first aid to the injured, an ambulance party directed by Assistant Scoutmasters Anthony and Brown treating cases of a broken thigh-bone and a scalp injury. Has Trek Wagon.

Seventh Troop, which is the proud owner of a trek wagon, went in for tent pitching, first aid and signalling. The tent was pitched in short order under direction of Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Ward, and was just as quickly struck and packed away in the wagon. The signalling, by Morse and semaphore with flags, was carried on under Assistant Scoutmaster Victor Ward. First aid to wounded in the field and stretcher drill was in charge of Assistant Scoutmaster Grant.

Tenth Troop, led by Scoutmaster Brinkman, smart little fellows, demonstrated their ability in physical drill, first aid and stretcher work, signalling and fire-lighting.

Fourth and Sixth troops took part in the bugle band and acted as buglers during the exhibitions. The smaller troops combined in a display of pyramids and physical work and first aid. Eleventh Troop, unfortunately, had to sit by watching—the others for want of a leader.

The alert and rally brought the different troops back into column of patrols and with Seventh Troop leading with the flag and the others in order, marched back by Simcoe street, Government street and Yates street, dismissing in front of the public library. The boys marched well, their whole appearance throughout the parade and exhibitions being most creditable to all concerned.

CARNIVAL MAKERS AMUSE THE CROWD

Fanciful Costumes Give Color Tinge to Evening Amusement

FIREWORKS DISPLAY IN INNER HARBOR

Pleasures of Closing Hours Are Without Alloy

Thousands of people followed the crowd of fantastically costumed carnival makers who paraded during Saturday evening, the jovial merry-makers forming in festive procession shortly after 8 o'clock, parading along Douglas street to Blanchard street, then back down Yates street to Government street, the quaint antics and buffooneries of the various members of the grotesque pageant exciting shouts of laughter from the onlookers.

Apparently ushering the more or less disorderly progress of the parade was a majestic policeman with a rubber club, whose non-relation to the really official members of the Victoria police was hinted in the big V.P. which adorned his broad back. Blue-coated, helmeted and brass-buttoned, however, his face-view was authoritative and commanding, and a single motion of his hand proved sufficient to compel respect from snail-paced automobiles and uncertain-footed pedestrians. Even the vigilant Victoria police failed to notice some of the misdeeds detected by the eagle eye of this pseudo-constable, who, however, finally outpoliced them to such a point that at the close of the carnival, it was reported, he was himself conveyed to the lockup until promise of less functionary behavior.

Hayseed Band.

Proceeding along Government street the oddly-clothed mountebanks, pierrots, clowns, hoarse-voiced nergesses, and "yellow-kids" made their way to Port street, thence to Douglas street and along Douglas street to Yates street, all the while accompanied by the pressing crowd of spectators who wished to share in the sport of the jocular merry-andrews who for the while claimed prior rights to the highway of the street. The final course of the procession was along Government street to the causeway, where the judging took place, the Hayseed Band which came almost at the beginning of the hundred or more ludicrously attired fun-makers, all the while giving vent to starting and affecting in the middle of the harmonious passages.

The musicians, representing farmers, long-haired professors of music, colored minstrels, etc., to the number of eight, were the well-known Wagner's musicians, of Seattle, which, owing to the dearth of local bands on this occasion, willingly consented to assist in the Victoria Day celebrations here. Their old-time melodies, lavishly interspersed with startling discords and false notes, created to terrify the musical, were highly appreciated, and their mock-seriousness in serenading the Dominion hotel and the Empress hotel proved their sense of humor.

A black "mammy," with a lost baby, was another of the amusing features of the carnival, while several of the impersonations were decidedly clever. Judging took place at the causeway.

Prize Winners.

For lady characters—1st prize, D. Beaton (squirrel); 2nd, L. Disbecker (school girl); 3rd, E. Coleman (Turkish lady); 4th, P. Salmon (Bowerly girl); 5th (special), W. Noaks (colored nurse).

Gentlemen—1st, R. Wallace and associates (pierrots); 2nd, H. F. Jarvis (policeman); 3rd, R. Day ("Rube"); 4th, Cracknell and associates (Turks). A special prize was accorded two small boys in Indian costume, who, however, disappeared before the judges could ascertain their names. If the lads will call at the secretary's office they will receive their prize, and all the other competitors should also communicate with J. B. McCallum, 1388 Pandora avenue, who will present the prizes awarded to the several successful contestants in the carnival.

Fireworks Display.

With the crowd already gathered on the causeway and surrounding points, the first glare of fireworks, which went off about 8.45 from a scow moored in the harbor, elicited a prolonged shout. Scores of tiny craft with Chinese lanterns hanging at bow and stern piled about the waters, the lights reflecting again and again and making a scene of great brilliance and beauty of color. The parliament buildings, embroidered in their delicate tracery of artificial lights, seemed like the calm critic of the fanciful flourishes of the soaring rockets which cleaved the pall of night, dazed the eyes of the onlooker, and irradiated the dark shadows hanging about the piers and wharves along the waterfront. Never before has Victoria seen such fireworks, and the crowd which gathered in the expectation of seeing a few slender rockets and exploding fire-crackers remained to witness the succession of brilliant vari-colored and fanciful illuminations which shot into the purple skies.

Thirty-one Pieces.

Thirty-one pieces in all were set off, the display being provided by Hitt Bros., of Seattle, formerly of Victoria. As the drifting lights passed over the heads of the people and lighted the distant streets an elevensome multitude of faces could be seen from the balconies of the Empress, the new Union Club, the Belmont building, the steps of the post office, the parliament buildings, the causeway and every available foothold. Fountain rockets, with tipped points of red, green, orange, blue and purple poised for a moment while the waters reflected the colors a thousandfold, these in turn being followed by piercing points of light which shot high into the air, then gyrated in fantastic motions before bursting in spasmodic irregular comets of yellow light. One of the most effective of the fiery agents was hardly visible until it hung like an incandescent arc-light over the harbor, suffusing its brilliant lights so far distant that for many blocks along Government and Douglas streets, street-lamps might have been dispensed with entirely.

GORGE PARK OPENS TO MANY THOUSANDS

Scenic Railway Not Running but Various Other Attractions Held the Populace

A gymnast on a trapeze, who spun round and round his fiery support with apparently exhaustless energy, expired with fatal suddenness when the tussle burned out, the canonade of explosive fireworks which followed sounding like a species of diabolic applause at this exhibition of inhuman exercise.

One or two swishing aviators hissed out a brief existence with brilliant effect, other fantastic points of luminosity zig-zagging their way heavenward and kindling the darkness before the portrait of His Majesty King George was sketched in burning points against the gloomy background. This brought the display to a close, wild huzzas and cheering breaking from the fascinated spectators as the last lines of the Royal face faded in a veil of smoke.

The well-known specialist for beautifying of complexion and skin, Herr Hugo von Ballion, from Vienna, Austria, has just arrived in Victoria. He is prepared to take appointments for treatment of complexion by an absolutely new and harmless process, employing artificial natural remedies only. References of the highest class. Consultations by appointment only. Address Hotel Kaiserhof, or telephone 4754.

Although the big attraction, the scenic railway, was not in operation the Gorge park drew big crowds on all of the three days just concluded. The opening Friday night was signalized by a gorgeous display of fireworks, and this feature was repeated again on the evening of the holiday. Sunday was more quiet, but most of the booths were open for business, and they were not entirely disappointed.

Among the means of entertainment available for the public were refreshment booths of all kinds, a dairy lunch counter, a soda fountain, a Japanese tea garden, a floating tea room towed about the Gorge waters by a launch, and another Japanese tea room on the border of the water. In addition to these there were cigar and candy booths and peanut and popcorn stands, and a game where one could, it lucky, ring boxes of chocolates, and other luxuries.

The amusement stands included knife and cane games, Japanese ball games, throwing baseballs for cigars, a shooting gallery and a photograph gallery, etc.

Friday night was Venetian night, and the water was dotted with gaily decked gondolas. There were thousands of people on hand taking part in the general joy, but these were as nothing compared with the crowds which walked, rode, ran, drove, crawled, climbed and pushed their way to the newly equipped park on Saturday. Street cars, omnibuses and motor cars were the least of the vehicles employed in transporting the holiday crowds. Every citizen who owned an express wagon put a couple of benches and old blankets in it, and drove it to and from the Gorge loaded with passengers at so much a ride.

SENATE AND THE NAVAL BILL.

Whatever be the fate of the navy bill at the hands of the Senate, the debates on the measure in the House of Commons, notwithstanding the application of closure, have cleared away some misapprehensions from the minds of Canadians. After reading Premier Borden's final exposition of the policy of the government, it appears that the aims of the two parties are not so far asunder after all as to the ultimate duty of Canada. Mr. Borden says, in effect, that the duty of this country from the point of view of naval experts, is to undertake coast defences, to construct drydocks, small cruisers, torpedo boats and submarines, and to undertake the instruction of persons in the training of these works and vessels. The weakness of the premier's exposition lies in the fact that he does not undertake to say when these things shall be undertaken. Taken in conjunction with the fact that the Rainbow has been dismantled and with a former statement that Canadians will not be fitted for the task for twenty-five or fifty years, the assumption is that we shall not be in a position to accomplish anything worthy of the name for our own defence in a generation. The Liberal position as announced in the debates in parliament and as exemplified in policy during the latter days of the Laurier regime was to proceed with preparations for our own defence immediately. No one who has read the reports of the proceedings in parliament can deny that herein we have set forth the facts fairly and correctly.

Reports from Ottawa state that it is the intention of the Senate to apply to the Borden navy bill a similar amendment as was moved by the Conservative party in the House of Commons to the Laurier naval service act when that measure was under discussion. This amendment declared in substance that the bill should not come into effect until it had received the endorsement of the electorate. If the attitude of the Senate is correctly stated, Premier Borden will be placed in an embarrassing position. He has declared that if "immediate effect" were not given to his policy and "effective aid" rendered by Canada he would at once resign and appeal to the country. The general impression at Ottawa and in the country at large is that the forces behind the premier will not countenance dissolution under any circumstances at the present time, feeling that the current of public opinion is running strongly against the naval policy of the administration. There is an element behind Mr. Borden which is in cordial agreement with Sir Richard McBride that "the thing is to get in, and after you are in to stay in." On the other hand, there is the declaration of the Premier, who is anxious to maintain whatever reputation he may have, particularly in the estimation of his British Imperialistic allies, as a "man whose word is as good as his bond." Thus it will be understood that grave issues hang upon the action of the Senate.

CHICKENS COMING HOME.

We have been expecting from Sir Richard some reference to the Oriental question, and it came in the course of his speech in Vancouver last week. But it is regrettably overdue. We looked for a demonstration from our Premier when he learned that with characteristic maladroitness Mr. Borden had effectively tied Canada's hands with regard to Japanese immigration. When the correspondence in which Mr. Borden assured the Tokio government that Canada would not discriminate against Japanese was laid before parliament we rose on tiptoe in the expectation of seeing Sir Richard McBride tear a passion to tatters. We thought he would become a raging lion and throw a roar of protest in the direction of Ottawa. But he did not even whisper a remonstrance. The champion of a white British Columbia, the originator of numerous anti-Asiatic bills in the legislature devised for the purpose of embarrassing the Laurier administration, the patriot whose circus rhetoric rang out in denunciation of the Lemieux agreement, kept silent when in the interests of this province it was his duty to speak out. Here is an extract from his remarks on the speech from the throne in the legislature last session:

"During many sessions the Legislature of this province had been endeavoring to impress the authorities at Ottawa with the conditions obtaining in this part of the Dominion, but until recently with little success. Then had come a change of government at Ottawa, and the accession of Mr. Borden to the premiership. The province had submitted its case very fully to him and now felt encouraged to believe that the relief denied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier will shortly be granted by Mr. Borden."

"The province had submitted its case very fully to him (Mr. Borden) and now felt encouraged to believe that the relief denied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier would shortly be granted by Mr. Borden." In the light of developments subsequent to his speech that sentence sounds ridiculous. Now what was it Sir Wilfrid did or omitted to do to which the Premier objected? He entered into an amicable arrangement through Mr. Lemieux, his Postmaster-General, with the Tokio government, by which Japanese immigration into Canada was limited to about four hundred a year, certainly an insignificant number. Japan has faithfully observed that agreement, although the veracious representatives of the province in the Tory ranks at Ottawa always when in opposition intimated that this was not the case. But had the Lemieux agreement proved ineffective Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in a position to bring into force restrictive regulations which would have met the situation. But what was the relief denied by Sir Wilfrid and granted by Mr. Borden? Simply a pious hope by the federal premier that Japan would continue the Lemieux Agreement—accused of Sir Richard and his white horse brigade—and a solemn assurance without modification or condition that Canada would not discriminate against Japanese. Hon. Frank Oliver introduced an amendment to the legislation bringing the recently renewed treaty with Japan into force providing that nothing in it shall affect the right of any province to pass legislation within its own jurisdiction relative to Japanese, and this was voted down, among the opponents of the amendment being the solid seven from British Columbia. R. F. Green, who as a minister in the provincial cabinet had fathered measures on this very point, was one of the seven.

Year after year Sir Richard McBride with cheap flapping has denounced the Lemieux agreement as a sacrifice of the interests of this province. He made this question—now suddenly become in his eyes a great imperial matter to be dealt with in a broad-minded manner—a political football. He and his friends won elections with their buncombe. And yet when they knew that Mr. Borden was sacrificing Canada's right to resort to legislation should the Lemieux agreement not prove satisfactory, they uttered no protest. At a time when they might have shown that they were sincere and candid in their white British Columbia advocacy they made no move.

ALARMED.

The people of this continent are deeply concerned about the question of the high cost of living. There is down in the minds of the public a conviction that the excessive cost of many of the necessities of life is due to artificially created circumstances, not to the natural law of supply and demand, and they are disposed to hold some one responsible for what they consider unnatural conditions. This conviction has been confirmed by certain developments following the slight reduction by the Dominion government of the duties on certain commodities. The reduction in the duties on sugar was followed by a slight fall in prices to the consumer. But the Canadian manufacturer, noting cause and effect, has issued a note of warning, telling his brother manufacturer that the public, seeing what has taken place and drawing the logical deduction from it that reductions in duties all along the line would be followed by a fall in prices all along the line also, must array his forces against this day of readjustment. Now this representative of the protected interests does not boldly take the position that the movement so strongly manifested against the ramparts of protection must be met and fought in the manner those who have long enjoyed special privileges well understand. He is too astute to commit any such indiscretion. He simply throws out a hint that manufacturers must prepare themselves for the inevitable. But in the light of what took place when a very substantial measure of relief was promised the consuming public in the rejected reciprocity agreement, it is not difficult to surmise what the attitude of the protected interests will be when confronted with a demand which no government will dare to entirely ignore. They will fight to the last ditch and to the limit of their tremendous resources for their mergers and their monopolies. Therefore it may be well for the general public to make a note of what is going on. The consumers of the United States have given the insatiable interests of that country a constitutional shock, the first real one in the history of protection. Our rulers at Ottawa and the interests which put them there have profited by the election of Wilson and the Democratic party, and as a result the demand for higher protection has been abandoned. But unless we are very much mistaken the country will not be satisfied with that. The case of sugar has given it an inkling of what is at least the first cause of higher prices, and there will undoubtedly be an irresistible demand for a reduction of duties all along the line.

In Vancouver on Saturday the Premier expressed satisfaction that no Asiatics were employed on undertakings in progress in this province which have arisen out of the policy of his administration. He might have gone a little further along this line and dealt with the conditions under which coal is being mined at Cumberland at this very moment. He would probably have said that it would be highly improper to apply the Coal Mines Regulations Act to the Canadian Collieries, Limited, because we owe so much to Sir William and Sir Donald. He knows perfectly that this legislation as it affects the employment of Orientals in our coal mines is being honored in the breach and not in the observance.

We will venture a guess and say that Sir Richard's meanderings on the navy question in Vancouver indicate that he is endeavoring to support Mr. Borden's contribution policy. But what about the defenceless condition of the British Columbia coast line? We used to hear a lot from the Premier on this subject. It is extraordinary indeed that for the sake of party politics a British Columbia public man can ignore the interests of his own province. Has Sir Richard forgotten about those "enormous interests on this coast which require protection," or does he think the "world-service" squadron at Gibraltar will be sufficient?

The morning paper's observations regarding the necessity for some further improvements on the Malahat Drive are timely and should be acted upon. There are several dangerous points on this highway to which attention should be given and the importance and popularity of the drive will justify a generous expenditure for the purpose. We want it to be renowned for its scenic attractions, not for its thrills.

The decision of the board of trade to co-operate with the Agricultural Association in promoting an extensive Made-in-Canada exhibit at the fall fair is commendable. If our manufacturers will put their shoulders behind the movement and make it successful they will do not a little to advertise the advantages of this city, besides contributing to the satisfactory outcome of the exhibition.

Twenty-two men have disappeared from mortal ken in Philadelphia within the past few weeks. The police say motor cars have something to do with the mystery. The new vehicle is said to be a very convenient tool for the execution of the plans of modern bandits. It has the horse of the old-time highwayman "beaten a mile."

Can it be that Mr. Borden is actually going to appeal to the country if the Senate amends his navy bill? The expenditure of forty million dollars more than our anticipated revenue suggests that possibility, while the dexterous two column boost of Mr. Borden by our contemporary yesterday indicates that it looks for an election.

During April Britain's imports increased by $20,000,000 over those of the corresponding month last year, and her exports increased $55,000,000. And Bonar Law, of melancholy mien, declares that under free trade Old England is going to the dogs!

Once more everybody in Victoria is to be congratulated upon a successful and highly enjoyable celebration. The duties of the police, as usual, were mainly of a supervisory nature. But that has generally been an outstanding feature of our Victoria Day celebrations.

Mrs. Pankhurst, militant suffragette, is in jail again under the provisions of the "cat and mouse bill," so called, probably because it sets a trap for those who recover from the effects of self-starvation while in prison.

After all, it is no wonder Victoria Day has become so popular as a holiday in this part of His Majesty's dominions. The weather is invariably ideal for a day's outing.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW.

Irish Independent.

Mr. Borden's government in Canada is confronted with a stiff task in trying to force through his Navy Bill, authorizing a contribution towards the Imperial Navy. While not opposed to the principle of increasing the naval forces of the Empire, the Liberals object to the particular form in which it is proposed by the Conservatives to offer assistance. The Liberals are as loyal to Great Britain as the Conservatives; but they object to being coerced into making a contribution to Imperial defence, which they would loyally and gladly make in what they consider the best way—that of establishing a Canadian Navy. They have strenuously opposed the Borden bill for weeks and to overcome their resistance the Premier has framed a code of drastic closure rules; and these are to be debated for three or four weeks. If the bill is ultimately carried in the House of Commons, the Senate, which the Liberals control, will, in all probability, reject it. The government may then either go to the country or accept the principle of a Canadian navy. It is reported that opinion in Canada generally is developing towards a desire to have the whole question submitted to the electors. The great objection apparently to the present bill and the policy underlying it is that it looks too much like government from Whitehall.

A SEA CHANGE.

(Boston Transcript.)

What fate is in store for the yachting reporter who undertakes to write his descriptions of the coming Lipton America's Cup contest in the new sea-lingo? Are we to learn that at 2.10 "Shamrock was close-hauled on the right tack," and then to be told that this was the wrong tack from the point of view of scientific seamanship? Worse than that may come. Shall we not read that "Shamrock came about to right at 3.12," with the explanation for the layman that she was then headed to the left, taking the wind over her right bow, beam, or quarter? If this does not mean confusion worse confounded, we know not whereof we write. And what is to become of the classics of our sea literature? Must we edit "Pinafore" like a play of Shakespeare and change the good old song from "Barboard watch ahoy" to "left-a-a-and watch ahoy"? And the sea novels, in which the romance or the tragedy always happened by the light of the moon in the port-watch—must we recall them now for fresh and revised editions? The bells of course, will go next. It will no longer be eight bells and the watch below, but four o'clock and afternoon ten with patent clocks to strike the hours on the ship's bell like any dame grandfather's clock on the front stairs in the old home on the farm.

STILL HOPE FOR THE MORRID.

Baltimore, Md., News.

"Turkey and Bulgaria having finally signed an armistice, it looks as if the war were over for good and all. True, the same idea was held last December. But in that set of negotiations Turkey still had a little to say; now she has been eliminated. She has accepted well-nigh anything in sight. And though the Allies may find it difficult to deal with the Powers strictly as they will, it would hardly help them in that particular to say that if their claims were not allowed they would go out and lick Turkey a little harder. The time is past when the Powers cared what did or did not happen to the Sultan."

The government of Japan does not permit American citizens to hold land in its Empire, and it is none of our business why she adopts that policy. The government of Hayti also forbids ownership of land to alien whites. Its right to do so goes without question. WATER BEING STORED AT JORDAN RIVER

Dam So Far Completed That Start Has Been Made; Pre- paring for Dry Months

Work has been so far advanced on the great dam on Jordan river, which has been erected by the Vancouver Island Power Company, that a start has been made in storing water within the mighty structure. A. T. Goward, local manager, stated this morning that although the dam was by no means completed as yet, enough was done to allow water to be introduced. The storage capacity is fed from the large drainage area around the head waters of Jordan river, and the dam itself is said to be far higher than any other in Canada.

The purpose of the structure is to reserve water during the rainy portions of the year to drive the machines at the power house during the dry season. The power house is used to supply the force which lights the homes and streets of Victoria and district, and in this way it is important that every thing should be in readiness that the supply of power be not interrupted nor curtailed at any time of the year.

Mr. Tripp, the local superintendent, makes frequent visits of inspection to the power station and reports all well there.

COUNCIL TO DISCUSS ISSUE OF DEBENTURES

Important Financial Debate is Expected at This Evening's Meeting

Rumor has it that there will be an important financial debate at the city council this evening. There is obvious discontent among some of the aldermen at what they consider the ill-advised sale of the city's bonds in London at a price which will net Victoria only 92½%. Several aldermen expressed the opinion this morning that the matter would be brought up to-night, but none would say in just what form. It is felt by certain members of the council, however, that the mayor and chairman of the finance committee should have consulted the council before taking the step, which several councillors consider a serious mistake. The finance committee met at 2.30 this afternoon but the result of its conference could not be ascertained before the times went to press.

THE SONG OF THE BROOK.

Ah, the little brooklet—merrily it sings
As it's way it windeth on to mightier things;
Over crag and boulder; through the darkened fumes;
Never stops to murmur thought of

I will heed the lesson as my path I ply,
Past the Crags oforrow, 'neath a

And with song eternal hold the Faith it brings
That I too am moving on to mightier things!

CANADIAN CLUBS OF SEATTLE CELEBRATE

Empire Day Observed by Sons and Daughters of Canada
Across the Line

On the eve of the magnificent celebrations held here on Empire Day, the Canadians of Seattle also loyally remembered the occasion by holding a progressive high tea, followed by a promenade concert, the function being under the auspices of the Canadian Club of that city, assisted by the Canadian Women's Club, organized there on May 6 last.

The function took place in the Bon Marche cafe, about one hundred and fifty guests partaking of the delicious refreshments provided, after which a thoroughly British programme was given commencing with the singing of "The Maple Leaf Forever." Assisting on the programme were the Misses Laura Sanderson, Muriel Cooper and Margaret Robertson, Mesdames Frederick Adams and H. A. Cooper and Professor Edward Viggars and Capt. P. D. Hughes.

Mrs. Cooper, president of the newly-formed Canadian Women's Club, and Capt. Hughes were the speakers of the evening, and gave a brief outline of the history of Empire Day, and the value of the observance to the people of the great nation. Other members of the new organization are Mrs. Robert Kincaid, Mrs. P. D. Hughes and Mrs. Gonnell, vice-presidents; Mrs. Archibald Wilson, secretary; Mrs. E. W. Ware, corresponding secretary, and Miss Laura McMillan, treasurer.

TWO YEARS FOR THEFT

Chinaman Sent Up for Stealing Gun—
Last Case to Be Heard at Assize.

Verdict and sentence in Rex v. Lee Chong, delivered on Friday afternoon, brought the spring assizes for the county of Victoria to a close.

R. C. Lowe, counsel for the defence, and H. B. Robertson, crown prosecutor, having been heard, his lordship, Mr. Justice Morrison, charged the jury, his summing up leaning heavily against the prisoner. In the course of his remarks he again referred to the practice of foreigners who can speak English falling back on pretended ignorance of the language whenever they happen to be before a court.

His lordship also condemned the habit of criticizing the police in the course of addresses to juries on behalf of prisoners. He reminded the jury that policemen were on the average just the same in every way as the average of the rest of humanity, and were being paid by the community to protect their lives and property. It was only the man who got into trouble with the police who nursed a grudge against them; the rest of the world had a respect for the force, and the force, in this city and elsewhere, deserved respect.

It took the jury but eight minutes to decide that the prisoner was guilty of stealing a gun from the store of Harris and Smith, Broad street, on August 22 last, and Lee Chong was at once sentenced to two years' imprisonment. The court then adjourned.

A DOUBLE EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bradbury and Mr. and Mrs. C. Woolley Will Reside Here.

A pretty double wedding took place last Saturday at the Victoria West Methodist church, when two daughters of Mr. George Harris, of Blythe Bridge, England, became the brides of two former residents of Blythe Bridge. The first was Mary, third daughter of Mr. Harris, who was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Mitchell Bradbury, second son of W. J. Bradbury, of Blythe Bridge, the bride looking charming in a travelling costume of fawn whipcord cloth worn with a hat of pink nylon trimmed with French roses. Maud, the fifth daughter of Mr. Harris, became the bride of Mr. Charles Woolley, eldest son of Mr. Woolley, of Blythe Bridge. She was becomingly attired in her travelling costume of pale grey cloth with hat of cream nylon trimmed with ostrich plume and silver roses. Mr. George W. Harris, a brother of the brides, and Mr. F. T. Shenton acted as best men, Rev. J. A. Wood performing the ceremony. After the services the wedding party repaired to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. James, on Princess avenue, where a wedding breakfast was served, and a reception held. The newly-wedded couples will make their future homes on Inlet avenue near the Gorge.

The Fruit of a Dream

Almost fifty years ago a young man dreamed a dream and then set earnestly about materializing it. ALGERINE RETURNS FROM LONG CRUISE

Six Months' Tour of South American and South Sea Islands

AIDS DISABLED BOAT SOUTH OF COOS BAY

Collect Specimens on Easter Island; Captain Cook's Monument Renovated

Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening H. M. S. Algerine, Commander Brooker, berthed at Esquimalt, after a six months' cruise along the western coast of America and the South Sea Islands.

Almost in the last moment of the trip the British sloop of war was able to render assistance to a distressed launch party, whose engines had become disabled. The incident occurred some 20 miles south of Coos Bay, the sloop picking up the distress signals of the Romer, of Portland. There were three men on board, and they were in difficulties, having been without food for 24 hours. The occupants were grateful for assistance, and were subsequently landed at Coos Bay, whence they made their way home.

On the long cruise, in which she alternates with the Shearwater, the Algerine left Esquimalt on November 28. After making a stop at San Diego, calls were made at Manzanillo and Acapulco, where the sloop was around Christmas tide. Very little was seen of the revolution in Mexico, conditions at the ports being quiet. The next call was that to Guayaquil, Ecuador's principal port, early in January. On the West Coast calls were also made at Port Paita and Callao, in Peru, and Arica, Iquique and Valparaiso, in Chile.

Then a course was steered westerly to Easter Island, which is attached to Chile, and there the officers were greatly interested in the remarkable totem, or gigantic images of extinct Polynesian types which have made the little island the centre of scientific interest for so many years. Commander Brooker added to his collections from specimens obtained on the island where the sloop stayed some little time. The faces of these statues are, however, not all Polynesian in type, and while some of them are of great height (one is 37 feet), their backs are flat and covered with pictographs.

In Low Archipelago. The course then lay by Henderson Island to Pitcairn Island. On Pitcairn, where are the descendants of the mutineers of the Bounty, they found the little settlement well satisfied and living a life entirely disconnected from the outside happenings of the world. Being now in the Low Archipelago, Tahiti was visited for coal. A northerly course took the sloop by way of Penrhyn, Starbuck and Malden Islands, all under British protection. The equator was shortly afterwards crossed, and soon afterwards Christmas Island, that typical atoll of the South Seas, loomed up on the horizon. A short run northwesterly found the Algerine at Panning Island, the Pacific cable station, and then Washington and Palmyra Islands were visited, en route to the Hawaiian group.

Cleans Monument. In Honolulu the commander had a special object, that of securing a copper tablet which is greatly prized and which is declared to have formed part of the memorial to Captain Cook, killed in the Hawaiian Islands. It is now in the possession of Mrs. Robert Leslie, of Honolulu, who received it through her husband. She traces back its possession to purchase and the commander and the governor could not secure its surrender. The Algerine was obliged after coaling to leave for Kealahou Bay, where Captain Cook was murdered, and here a party was landed to clean the memorial.

Another run of 2,500 miles brought the sloop to San Diego, and since that time the Algerine has come up the coast by easy stages.

She will be overhauled now and thoroughly cleaned. The Shearwater will berth about the end of this week from Mexico.

FALCON BERTHS WITH CARGO OF SALT

San Francisco Freighter Finds Holiday Spirit Interferes With Waterfront Workers

While the waterfront agents and workers were thinking more about the celebration of the holiday than of the arrival of steamers, the Falcon, of San Francisco, Capt. L. J. Schage, picked her way into the inner harbor and took up a berth at the Grand Trunk wharf on Saturday morning. She brought a considerable cargo for local and Vancouver shippers, having about 175 tons for this port, mainly salt for leading importers. For the Vancouver section of the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company the freighter takes over 2,000 barrels of asphalt for road surfacing work. The vessel has been engaged at Puget Sound ports and is exceptionally well built to handle large cargoes. She is of 555 tons burden, and excellently fitted for the interport trade in building materials and similar supplies. The captain had some difficulty in getting a gang of stevedores together to remove his cargo for this port promptly.

Vancouver Island—Quatsino Sound—Bergh Cove—Buoy Established. Position—In 3 fathoms water, about 1/4 mile out from the wharf at Bergh cove. The buoy marks a reef outside the cove. Lat. N. 50 deg. 31 min. 52 sec. Long. W. 127 deg. 38 min. 20 sec. From the buoy, the middle of wharf bears 80 deg. (N. 64 deg. E. Mag.). Coffin island bears 101 deg. (N. 75 deg. E. Mag.). and Bull rock bears 150 deg. (S. 56 deg. E. Mag.). The north tangent of Brockton island, the north tangent of Limestone island, and the buoy, are in line. Description—Wooden spar buoy. Color—Red. Burrard Inlet—English Bay—False Creek—Change in Position of Lights. New position—225 feet out from the shore line at high water mark at the south end of Nicola street, city of Vancouver, on the north side of the entrance to False creek. Lat. N. 49 deg. 15 min. 29 sec. Long. W. 123 deg. 8 min. 31 sec. Structure—Pole, set in a white pyramidal concrete case, square in plan. Character of lights—The lights are fixed red lights, shown from two lanterns, one suspended at each end of a cross piece at the top of the pole. Elevation—Twenty-six feet. Visibility—Seven miles from all points of approach by water. Illuminant—Electricity.

When G. H. Barnard, M.P., returns shortly he will bring watches for presentation to the widow of Sgt. Claydon, 4th Sgt. Harper and Constables F. Foster, Webb and Smith for assistance rendered the passengers and crew of the Nidge last winter, when she struck off Macaulay Point during the storm, and shortly afterwards was battered to pieces.

THE PRINCE ALBERT

The Grand Trunk Pacific steamer which ran on a shoal near Port Simpson, is now at Prince Rupert undergoing examination.

PRINCESSES WILL HAVE COMPETITION

Northern Route Will Be Shared With Skagway Steamship Company

Apparently the Princess May is to have competition on the Skagway route, as the Skagway Steamship Company announces that on Friday the S. S. Leelanaw, an American bottom, will leave the Grand Trunk Pacific wharf at Vancouver, for Skagway direct. The charterers for Skagway direct are J. E. Webb and W. F. Swan. The owners announce that the shipments of Dawson freight forwarded by the Leelanaw will connect with the first sailings of the White Pass steamers from White Horse.

Local officials of the B. C. Coast Service for the Canadian Pacific railway are naturally surprised at invasion of the field which was particularly their own, and upon which the Princess Sophia was to operate with the Princess May in the double run as soon as her repairs were completed at the B. C. Marine railway, where she has been receiving attention since the recent accident.

The American lines, like the Pacific Coast, and Alaska Steamship companies, have gradually abandoned the business on this route, and the Canadian Pacific has the field with a great deal of business, so much in fact that all the available space on the northern steamers is occupied. On her last trip the Princess May had to leave some of her freight at Vancouver, to be picked up by another steamer later.

COLONEL ROY LEAVES ON NORTHERN VISIT

Prince George Sails on Schedule; Grand Trunk and California Trade

Travel north by the Grand Trunk Pacific steamers is brisk. The Prince George took a considerable number this morning for the north. Among those going were Col. and Miss Roy, who will make the round trip. The colonel is going to Prince Rupert on official business. W. H. Peter and L. Cullison will proceed to Naden harbor, while C. S. Hodges will make the round trip. Other passengers from here included A. Hood, J. S. Cokely, A. R. Ashby and G. E. Gibson.

While no official intimation has been received it is thought that the Prince John may carry on the business to and from the Queen Charlotte Islands from the northern terminal, while the Prince Albert is off the run, although appearances point to the fact that the delay will not be protracted.

General Passenger Agent W. P. Hinton, of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, who was on the coast recently with Vice-President J. E. Dalrymple, states concerning the remarks attributed to him while on the coast that the company contemplates entering the California trade, that he knows nothing about the matter, and authorized no statement in any interview.

It is generally supposed that sooner or later some step of this kind will be taken, but any announcement to this effect at the present time can only be regarded as premature.

The Portland Telegram says that as a result of the strikes in the Vancouver Island mines, the bunker coal for steamers in the offshore trade loading at North Pacific ports has been supplied largely at Seattle. "In shipping circles considerable talk is heard relative to a proposition of bringing coal from Japan to Portland in order to stimulate the Oriental trade out of here. If cargoes were assured for them coming this way it is contended that tramp steamers could be chartered at a materially less rate than the owners now demand."

VICTORIA'S HORSES ARE AGAIN FEATURES

Splendid Animals Parade on Saturday With Decorated Cars

GARBAGE HORSES WIN UNIVERSAL ADMIRATION

Decorated Automobiles Represent Taste of the Exhibitors

Victoria Day celebration began on Saturday with the horse and motor car parade, which was well worth turning out early to see. There have been more motors seen in a parade here, and more contestants devoting time and care to the decoration of their motors. The number of horses and horse-driven vehicles, on the other hand, was conclusively proof that the day of the equine is far from being over.

Parade Assembles.
The sections of the parade assembled on Yates and School streets, and promptly at half-past nine began to move along the former thoroughfare under the guidance of J. Henderson, who, as chief marshal, kept the line moving steadily and in order. The route of parade was by Yates, Douglas, Cormorant, Government, Superior and Douglas streets, to the corner of Douglas and Simcoe streets.

At the head of the parade rode Chief Langley and Deputy Chief Palmer, and following them came the mayor, members of the committee and judges in motors. The Boy Scouts bugle band led the Scouts and the Central School Cadets, who were given a cheer as they passed along.

The motor car section was led by the Fifth Regiment band. First came Mrs. Maynard's motor decorated as a rose basket, the colors being green and rose pink and the two young ladies within, Mrs. Ernest G. Maynard and Mrs. J. W. Maynard, being gowned in rose and black. Roy Troupe's car was transformed into a yacht, the hull, mast and sails being picked out in the yellow bloom for which Victoria is famous. Thomas Filmyer's car was decorated with broom as a gunboat. Other motor cars followed, decked with flags and flowers.

A big motor tally-ho bore the children of the Protestant Orphanage, who were afforded this opportunity to see the sights through the generosity of Alderman Porter.

Pole Teams Appear.
The Pipe band headed a long string of motor trucks, and Rowland's band led the horse parade. First in this section came the polo teams and the lady and gentlemen riders who were competing. Carriages, buggies, drays and horse-drawn trucks, delivery wagons and contractors' wagons, and the line was closed by a dozen teams from the city health department. The parade was over a mile in length, and the streets were lined with people to watch it go by.

Judging took place on the football field adjoining Douglas street, a portion of the park which is admirably adapted for such an occasion. The large area of level ground gave ample space to the competing teams to move around in, and the thousands of spectators on foot or in carriages and motors found resting places on the broad, grassy slopes of Beacon Hill. No more picturesque spot could be chosen for a real view-point, offering not only a clear vision of all that is going on below, but a scenic panorama that is without a rival. To the west lie Beaulieu harbor and the blue Sooke hills, and to the south the snow-capped Olympics rise beyond the glittering waters of the Strait. Sea and mountains recede in the distance behind Race Rocks.

Riding and Jumping Events.
In order to get the ground clear, the riding and jumping events were judged first. For ladies' saddle horses, Mrs. Cox, who rode one of the Premier's horses, got the blue ribbon, and Mrs. M. J. Crawley was second. A. McKenney and E. Henderson secured the honors in the gentlemen's saddle horse class. Mr. Henderson got first in the jumping competition, and Mrs. Bury second. Popular interest undoubtedly was with the horses, as the applause during the judging of these events and the others following showed.

Some of Trade Cars.
The Brackman-Ker motor truck was easily first in its class. It was stacked high with sacks of the firm's household flour, and was driven by men in white bakers' suits. Kelly, Douglas, Ltd., were awarded second place, their big delivery truck being tastefully decorated with rosettes.

The Shawinigan Lumber Company had two horse-drawn lumber wagons out, one bearing a huge log of Douglas fir, six feet through, and the other two planks cut from a similar log. The driver of the latter had his coat decorated in a unique manner. It was covered with miniature doors, sashes, sills and other building timber, while his hat was surmounted by a tiny log cabin. The John McKay Company had a display of woodwork on one truck and its paint department had a display of its products in that line on another. The King Manufacturing Company showed the various uses of building material in timber made at its mill.

James Richards sent a handsome team of greys to compete in the four-horse class, and won first place. Second prize went to F. R. Stewart & Company's fine team of browns. Cameron & Caldwell's stable were represented by a six-horse team, drawing a box-wagon, in which was a big grey horse, and a team of four horses, which included Comber Truck, West End Grocery, Dixie H. Ross & Co., New Method Laundry, Montclair Piano Company, Maywood Meat Market (W. G. King), Rennie & Taylor, Royal Dairy, Williams, Trivette & Williams, McKay's Horseshoeing Forge.

THOUSANDS WATCH AQUATIC FESTIVAL

Crews of Algerine and Shearwater Are Missed From Annual Regatta

INDIAN RACES MAINTAIN PERENNIAL ATTRACTION

Canoe and Swimming Events Demonstrate Prowess of Younger Victoria

Missing from the Victoria Day celebration at the Gorge, which though time-honored still draws its thousands, were the energetic officers and the brawny men of the sloops of war, which are now absent from port. However, the officers of the Rainbow and a sturdy boat's crew from the Estevan were reminders of the presence of the senior service. Apart from the necessary withdrawal of the races for cutters, and a somewhat smaller entry in the Indian races, the regatta partook of similar ceremonies of other years, an innovation which was popular, and one deserving to be repeated being the tilting from canoes, which was productive of keen interest and much amusement.

The committee again faced two difficulties which are more or less dependent on one another—namely, the long intervals between the events, and the fouling of the course by boats and launches which would not keep clear, and simply defied the efforts of the officials appealing to maintain the course clear.

Troubles on Course.
The lapet race was not completed on this account as the two winning boats had both collided with launches, and had broken in the bows. Apart from these problems, which appear to be inevitable in a stretch of water of this character, the regatta passed off with success, and the officials were to be congratulated on a great deal of heavy work.

Principal among the interesting items continue to be the Indian races, paddled with the enthusiasm of the aborigines. They brought their war canoes to the struggle, and worked for all they were worth, well deserving the awards meted out to them. The doubters, with three teams, and first honors to a healthy pair of swarthy visitors, was the best of the series, and the Koochman's race the most amusing.

W. N. Kennedy won the single skiff competition, and Fawcett the single paddle canoe. The swimming races were an excellent feature, and resulted in some close contests. Mr. of the Victoria A.C. won the 10 yards city championship, while the Y.M.C.A. had the honors for the relay race.

A Society Event.
Other events followed well established lines, and the whole programme was watched by thousands massed amid the verdure of the parks and on the bridge. Victoria society was well represented in the private yachts, launches, and on the starter's barge. Mayor Morley and several of the aldermen were spectators, while Mr. Dallan and J. M. McCallum, the secretary, were supported by a number of energetic workers who year by year give their service in order to afford Victorians and their mainland friends the pleasure of a water festival amid the most charming surroundings possible for an aquatic event, assisted by the music of the Fifth Regiment. Nothing could be prettier than the summer frocks and the happy faces

MOTOR AND ROCK COLLIDE

Wineau Staples Hurt When Car is Overturned and is at Hospital.

A nasty accident occurred to Wineau Staples, manager of the Victoria Blue Print & Supply Company, while motoring on Saturday evening in company with W. S. Benson.

They were passing along Cadboro Bay road, between Lansdowne road and Bay street, when the car ran into a boulder which was lying alongside the roadway and overturned. Going at a fair speed the car swerved across the road into the boulder and a telephone pole.

Both the occupants were thrown out. Mr. Staples was stunned, and when picked up it was found that he had received a bad gash on the head and that he was severely bruised. He was taken in a passing motor car to the Royal Jubilee hospital, where Dr. Home attended to his injuries. He will be confined to the hospital for a day or two.

Mr. Benson escaped without injury. The car was damaged considerably.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS.

The following regimental orders have been issued by Lieut.-Col. A. W. Currie, commanding the Fifth Regiment, C. G. A.:

Enlisted—The following men having been duly attested are taken on the strength of the regiment, from the dates specified: No. 156, Gnr. W. E. Mitchell, May 14; No. 158, Gnr. E. V. Robley, May 16; No. 171, Gnr. Ernest Hawkins, May 21; No. 212, Gnr. F. Maloney, May 21; No. 213, Gnr. Hugh R. Allen, May 21, No. 88, Gnr. S. Remson Ward, May 21.

Posted—The following men, having been passed by the adjutant, are posted to companies as under:

To No. 2 Company, No. 156; Gnr. W. E. Mitchell; to No. 3 Company, No. 212, Gnr. H. R. Allen.

Officers' Meeting—The regular monthly meeting of the officers' mess will be held in the drill hall on Thursday the 28th instant at 8.30 p. m. Dress, undress uniform.

The militants started with the mistake of not recognizing that as civilization advances reason must take the place of force. If force is the only basis of political power, then women must permanently yield to the supremacy of man.—Mr. Dickinson, M. P.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT

By RUTH CAMERON

"When to-morrow comes it still will be to-morrow."

"We are going to be so happy next fall," a friend of mine told me the other day. "We are going to move into one of those beautiful new apartments they are building on the avenue, and I'm going to buy the guest room furniture we have been saving up for so long, and at last I shall be able to entertain my friends as I want. It seems to me I can hardly wait for fall to come."

As I look back across my friendship with this young woman, I remember a time when she could "hardly wait" for the day to come when she and her husband were to leave the place where they were boarding and really go to housekeeping in their first little apartment; and before that, a time when she could "hardly wait" for her wedding day; and before that a time when she could "hardly wait" until July for the summer vacation which we planned in the spring.

"And when to-morrow comes, it still will be to-morrow."

There is a great many people in the world who are always about to be happy. In the to-morrow of their fulfilled anticipations they are sure they will find happiness; and they are so intent upon looking forward that they quite forget that to-day is the to-morrow of yesterday's anticipation.

The very best time to do kind deeds is to-day; the very best time to start any good undertaking is to-day; and the very best time to be happy is to-day, this hour, this minute.

"If an inhabitant of some other planet were to visit America," says Orison Swett Marden, "he would probably think that our people were all on route for something beyond, some other destination, and that where they happen to be living is merely a way station where they unpack only such of their luggage as they need for a temporary stay. They are not really settled to-day, do not really live in the now, but they are sure they will live to-morrow or next year when business is better, their fortune greater, when they move into their new house, get their new furnishings or their new automobile, then they will be happy. But they are not really happy to-day."

That is a great indictment of the people of this country. I am afraid it is just one. It is peculiarly our national tendency to be in too much of a hurry getting ready to live, to have any time left for living itself. "Manna" is as much our failing as the Spaniards', only in a far different sense.

Anticipation has its uses, but it also has its abuses. Look forward to to-morrow's joy by all means, but don't look forward so eagerly that you miss the delights of to-day. Be happy this day, this hour, this minute. You are sure of that happiness.

MUST AND OUGHT

By GEORGE MATHEY ADAMS

The inspiration of Accomplishment is first the inspiration of Necessity. We do things and we do our best things when we are driven to because we must. Back of every fighter and back of every achiever is this silent little Commander. To cultivate the feeling that you must do what you Ought to do is to develop the sense of duty—to get Habit on your side.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do.

Cultivate the Must and Ought spirit and you eventually if not immediately call to your side one of the greatest factors in success—Willingness to Act and to Do.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do.

Never canker your Soul nor rot away your Initiative. Mixed with the dire necessity will come a dominant feeling of Love for what you do and the dream of a Glory that shall radiate with Joy and Helpfulness not alone your own life, but that will give to your Work itself a lustre that cannot fail to lighten and add Glory to countless other people.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do.

Personal satisfaction, even, is little worth while unless cumulative. The man does not live who is wholly selfish. Must drives a man to his job or to his idea, but the fast-breeding germ of Compensation, massing before his eyes, vitalizes a Purpose and makes it come out to all the world as something for everyone.

Make yourself Feel that you Must do what you Ought to do.

But cultivate a Foundation Must as well as a Superstructure Must. You Must give a certain number of hours to yourself or your Employer to-day, but make them hours of Service, not clock watching and the tolling off of time to no Results.

UNITED CLERICUS OPENS THIS EVENING

Services at Christ Church Cathedral at 8.30 Will Inaugurate Proceedings

The United Clericus, which is bringing together a large number of the clergy of the diocese and jurisdictions of Oregon, Olympia, Spokane, Columbia, New Westminster, Caledonia, and Kootenay, will open this evening at 8.30 with a service at Christ Church Cathedral, when the Lord Bishop of New Westminster will preach.

The meetings will be held in the Cathedral schoolroom. St. Barnabas' schoolroom, and, in the case of the public gathering on Wednesday evening, in the Alexandra Club.

Will Discuss Problems.

Among the sixty or seventy members of the clergy who are coming to Victoria or have already arrived here are a number of excellent speakers who will discuss important problems of the day both from the point of view of the clergy and of the laity, including the Bishop of New Westminster, the Rev. A. Hume-Smith, of New Westminster, and Bishop Scadding, of Portland, and Bishop Wells, of Spokane, both of whom will speak on the subject of "Practical Problems of Religion." Another speaker on the same topic will be the Rev. Principal Seager, of New Westminster. The Rev. C. R. Little, of the Columbian diocese, will read a paper on "The Relation of the Child to the Public Worship of the Church," to which the Rev. H. St. G. Buttrum and Rev. A. Hume-Smith will speak. Other interesting papers to be followed by discussion will be read by the Rev. F. K. Howard, of Oregon, on "Poverty and Its Prevention," and "The Reunion of Christendom," by the Rev. E. G. Miller.

Other interesting papers will be read to-morrow morning and afternoon by Rev. E. R. Bartlett and Rev. G. C. d'Easum, both of New Westminster. The former will deal with "The Place of the Supernatural in Christianity," the chief speakers to which will be the Very Rev. the Dean of Columbia and Rev. H. M. Ramsay; while the latter will discuss "The Attraction of Modern Cults," the speakers to take up the discussion being Rev. R. B. Day, of New Westminster, and Rev. H. W. Simpson, of Kootenay diocese.

The holding of the annual convention of the diocese of Olympia this week will prevent Bishop Keator, of Olympia, from attending the Clericus.

To Hold Reception.

The entire Anglican clergy of the city has been appointed a hospitality committee to look after the entertainment of the visitors, the outstanding feature of the convention being the reception which is to be held at Christ Church rectory to-morrow afternoon from 4 to 6 when the visiting clergy will be the guests of the Very Rev. the Dean of Columbia; and the motor drive round Saanich Peninsula on Wednesday, in the course of which the visitors will be the guests of the Rev. T. C. DenBarres, rector of Sidney, for tea. The automobiles will leave Burdette avenue, opposite the cathedral, at 2.30 p. m., and the committee on arrangements have asked that all having motor cars which they are willing to lend for the purpose of running the visitors over the route suggested should communicate with the general secretary, the Rev. F. H. Patt.

The programme will commence to-morrow morning with the celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 8 o'clock at Christ Church Cathedral. At 9 o'clock breakfast will be served at Christ Church schoolroom, to be followed an hour later with matins. At 10.30 Rev. E. R. Bartlett, of New Westminster, will read a paper on "The Place of the Supernatural in Christianity." Discussion on this, which will be continued until 12.30, will follow addresses by Very Rev. Dean Doull and the Rev. H. M. Ramsay, of Oregon, on the subject. The afternoon session will commence at 2.30 with the Rev. G. C. d'Easum's paper on "The Attraction of Modern Cults," to which the Rev. R. B. Day, of New Westminster, and the Rev. H. W. Simpson, of Kootenay, will speak.

ANY WOMAN CAN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Dandruff Disappears, Falling Hair Ceases, When You Use Parisian Sage.

No preparation has done so much to stop falling hair; eradicate dandruff and make women's hair beautiful as PARISIAN Sage.

It is the only certain destroyer of the dandruff microbe, the cause of most hair troubles.

PARISIAN Sage is most daintily perfumed. It is an ideal preparation not sticky or greasy. It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead or sulphur or any dye.

It is a magnificent dressing for women who desire luxuriant lustrous hair that compels admiration and for men and children nothing can compare with it.

It does away with terrible scalp itch over night and causes the hair to grow in abundance.

And a large bottle of PARISIAN Sage costs only 50 cents at all drug and toilet goods counters.

D. E. Campbell guarantees it.

AUSTRALIAN OPERA COMPANY.

For an engagement of five nights and Saturday matinee the Pollard Australian Opera Company, fresh from triumphs across this continent, comes for a special engagement at the Victoria theatre, beginning Tuesday, June 3, presenting that immortal opera comique, "The Toy Maker of Neuremberg," which has brought them so many brilliant and successful engagements since they left the Pacific coast on their tour of the continent last September. The coming five nights' engagement is but the forerunner of a lengthy summer season, which will be played in Victoria after the Pollards have had their two weeks' holiday and outing at the Pollard summer home, "Belcarra," in the north arm of Burrard Inlet.

COMMISSIONERS SET OFF THIS MORNING

Tribunal on Indian Lands Making First Part of Tour of the Island

SECTIONAL ITINERARY AS OUTLINED TO-DAY

Last Work in Victoria Consideration of Applications by Railway Companies

Three motor cars bearing the members of the Indian commission on lands left the Empress hotel this morning on the first stage of their journey among the Indian reserves of Vancouver island. The commission has been sitting in camera practically all last week in the local legislative buildings, on matters pertaining to their itinerary, and the order in which various cases shall be taken. Now they start on the actual work of inspection and observation. The last work done last Friday was the consideration of various right of way applications in connection with the traversing of Indian reserves by railways now in the building.

The commission has also adopted a sectional itinerary which will enable the members to visit practically all the reserves within the district of Cowichan during the next ten days. To-day the party will proceed as far as Duncan, and on the way will inspect the Malahat reservation. They will also view the small fishing station at Goldstream flats. Tuesday will be spent among the Indians of the large Cowichan reserve near Duncan, and in meeting with the Duncan Board of Trade which body has requested a conference.

Wednesday will be occupied in visiting the Nanaimo city reserve, where in all probability representations will be put forward by the Indians of the Nanaimo tribe, Thursday being devoted to people having their homes in the Nanaimo river reserve.

Friday the commission will visit the Nanaimo Bay reserve in the morning, and Qualicum in the afternoon. On Saturday the party will go over the two Comox reservations, while on Monday and Tuesday of next week the commission will visit the Indians of the Westholme, Chemainus and Kuper island reserves. The reservations at Sahtium and Skuts will be made, and the party will then return to Victoria to their headquarters, inspecting on the way the small reserve bordering Rogers lake.

PASSING SHOW

Madame Nazimova. After producing many dramatic plays, ten in number, Madame Nazimova has found one which offers her the best opportunities she has ever had since she became one of the leading dramatic actresses on the English speaking stage. The play is "Bella Donna," and its success has been international. James Bernard Pagan in making the dramatization of Robert Hichens' novel, "Bella Donna" is said to have followed the story as closely as is possible for a dramatic version, and the interest is held from curtain to curtain. "Bella Donna" will be seen at the Victoria theatre June 2.

Maude Adams. Considerable interest is being manifested in the coming of Miss Adams in Barrie's play, "Peter Pan," at the Victoria theatre, Wednesday, May 28. That there should be so much interest displayed in the coming of Miss Adams is not without reason for the young women is recognized as the most popular actress on the American stage. She has probably through her personality and the things that she has accomplished done more for the betterment of the stage in this country than any other player now before the public. In presenting "Peter Pan" the actress brings back to life one of the best plays that the stage has had in years. The curtain will rise at 8 p. m. Princess Theatre.

To-night will see the first presentation in this city of Italy's Calio's masterpiece, "The Manxman." It is considered among the very highest in dramatic offerings. While the play was written by Calio, the noted actor William Barrett assisted in the dramatization of the book. Through England as well as the United States, it met with phenomenal success. Mr. Belasco is entrusted with the leading role. Pete Quilliam. Mr. Burke, the new member of the Williams Company, will appear in the leading juvenile part, and Miss Page will make the most of a strong emotional part. Every member of the company has a difficult role to portray and much hard study and thought has been spent on the putting on of the Manxman.

Raine: Hunt Pictures. For three days, beginning next Thursday afternoon, May 29, Max Denham has booked the Paul J. Raine African Hunt pictures for a return engagement at the Victoria theatre. These remarkable pictures of wild animal life in darkest Africa have already played an engagement in Victoria to perhaps the largest business that has been recorded locally for a motion picture exhibition. However, this success is said to be but a repetition of their extraordinary vogue in all the large cities of the United States and Canada. The public has evinced great interest in Raine's big game exploits, and the recent engagements in Los Angeles and San Francisco are said to have shown no diminution in interest.

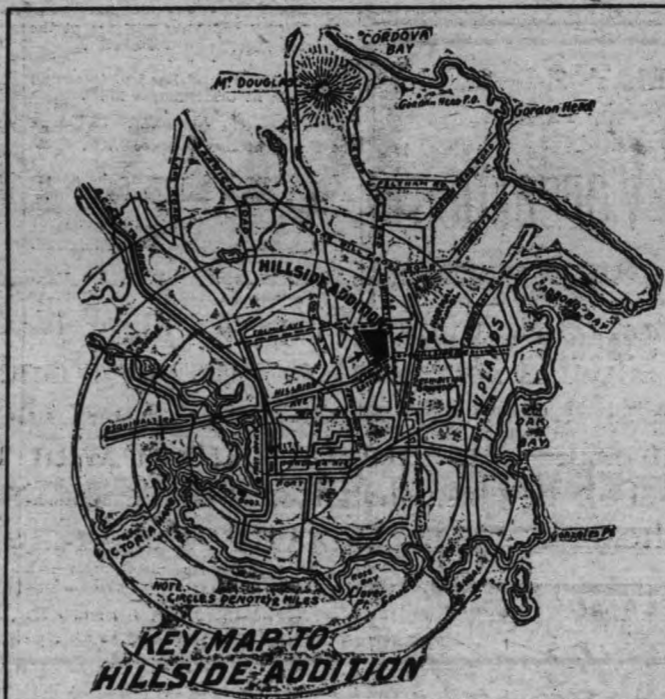

Read This Interesting Clipping From The Daily Colonist

Many people in Victoria are making the terrible mistake of not watching the development of their growing city, where a few dollars invested at the right time will net them handsome returns in a very short time.

Few of us know of the big improvements that are to change the entire district in the next few months. It would pay you to visit the famous Hillside district, just past the present end of the Hillside avenue carline, inside the city limits, being 1½ miles from the City Hall. Forty years ago one of our esteemed pioneers, who at that time had the pick of all Vancouver Island for the establishment of a Nursery, settled in this beautiful district, proclaiming it the choice of the Island. The soil is exceedingly good, the ground level and free from rock, in a commanding situation, quiet, free and homelike. For many years the district was peacefully content.

But now—a new life has sprung up among the old and new residents, fine homes are being built out and around the district. The city has passed a by-law, widening Hillside avenue, the artery street from water to water, to a 75-foot roadway, with cement sidewalks, boulevard, pavement, and in fact all civic improvements. The northeast sewer and the branch along Shelbourne street to the city limits is nearing completion. All of this year's big work is for the northeast district.

True, the Hillside carline is only three blocks away, but that's not good enough, two carlines must serve this district, with five-minute service to carry the residents to the city.

Price $1000 Per Lot

Owing to announcement about Shelbourne Street carline, prices should be $1500 each

The value of this property will increase wonderfully in a very short time. Don't you think you should investigate these facts? Large profits were made in the Fairfield and Hollywood district with the advent of civic improvements, and large profits must be made in Hillside Addition. The property is the choice of the Northeast district, is close to the new $500,000 Normal School, with a view over Oak Bay and the Willows and surrounding grounds.

NORTHEAST VICTORIA WANTS TRAM LINE

Renewed Agitation for Construction of Street Car System to Serve Important District of Victoria

Residents of the northeastern section of the city are taking steps to renew the agitation for an early commencement on the inauguration of the tram-line service projected by the B. S. Electric Railway Company. Several correspondents urge that some action should be taken to obviate further delay, pointing out that the progress and development of the district is being retarded, to say nothing of the inconvenience suffered by residents in the matter of inadequate transportation facilities.

Enquiry has elicited the fact that the B. S. Electric Company is prepared to undertake the construction of the line just as soon as it may be in a position to do so—that is to say, when the civic undertakings in the way of street grading and other necessary improvements shall have been made. The company is prepared to take the project in hand and press it forward to a speedy conclusion.

Residents in the section mentioned point out that now the city council is in a better financial position to what it was only recently, it is imperative that the mayor and aldermen give immediate attention to a matter which so vitally concerns their interests.

Can tell you the difference between white bread and

Grape-Nuts FOOD

You'll promptly discover the reason why tens of thousands now eat a regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and cream as the cereal part of breakfast.

White bread and many of the prepared breakfast foods are made of grains from which three-fourths of the most valuable brain-building and health-sustaining elements has been removed.

Grape-Nuts food is made of whole wheat and malted barley, milled under scientific supervision and made into crisp, golden granules, rich in well-balanced nourishment.

At this time of year a dish of Grape-Nuts and cream, as the cereal part of a meal, is especially valuable in meeting the requirements of body and brain.

Four Million Dollars for Esquimalt Harbor Drydock

Have you any idea of what this means to View Royal, our beautiful waterfront property? It will cause an activity in its vicinity the extent of which cannot be estimated, and a certain profit to all who invest in our subdivision at present prices.

View Royal View Royal

THIS illustration accurately portrays View Royal, our charming subdivision on Esquimalt Harbor. It is the most beautifully situated property on that large land-locked body of water. Sloping gently to fine beaches or attractive bays, cleared in parts, and in others, shaded to just the right extent with Douglas fir, and offering a glorious view from any point of the picturesque and historic harbor, with the Olympic mountains in the distance, it has an irresistible appeal. When you have seen it your decision will be as final as that of the young couple above represented. All we ask is an opportunity to show it. The property, the prices and the terms will do the rest.

View Royal is within easy walking distance of the Gorge carline—Victoria's finest homesteads are located miles beyond it—Hatley Park, Hon. James Dunsmuir's residence, is one illustration. A motor boat or a row boat puts a party on the Esquimalt car in short order. The E. & N. Railway runs through it and the C. N. P. is just about as close. Besides, authoritative report has it that either both or one of these railroads is to be electrified at least as far as the new Colwood Country Club, in which event there would be a service that would bring the subdivision's residents within few minutes of the Post Office.

We draw special attention to the property's investment advantages. The Dominion Government has decided to construct one of the world's largest dry docks within a short distance. Within a hundred yards the E. & N. Railway has established terminals, from which a ferry even now is making daily trips. Esquimalt Harbor is of such importance commercially that it cannot be overlooked. View Royal owners will be able to sell out at a substantial profit either in the immediate or the not distant future.

Goldstream water on tap. This is another point on which we lay special emphasis. The streets through View Royal have been graded and through all the Esquimalt Waterworks Co., by special arrangement with us, has laid pipes. Thus every purchaser is guaranteed the best water available anywhere in Victoria.

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office not later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day. THE ONE BLOT.

To the Editor:—The only blot upon this bright and happy anniversary is the ever-rising and unreasonable price of beef and mutton, and all things edible.

If there is any truth in the rumor that the Canadian Club intends to entertain a deputation from that enlightened country where the people contemptuously "turn up their noses" and suggest a substitute for our "disgusting habit" of eating steers and sheep, their first call for sympathy should be at the Colonist office, as a decided tendency has been displayed by the entire staff of that paper for many years to slay and eat the mutton.

But that tough and unscrupulous hero of five memorable fights has proved too wide awake to be caught "with chaff," or otherwise, for an ordinary lunch. Referring to the "blot" mentioned above, what an injustice it is to the consumer that the prosperity of trade in progressive countries is so absolutely dependent upon "legal robbery." And that our (sometimes weak-kneed) government can find no way out of this particular scandal, or any means of alleviating the misery it may entail.

In the absence of such aid from the government, I strongly advocate self-denial on the part of the consumers, with a general boycott (if it is lawful) of all "legal robbers."

At the same time "free" vegetable seeds and plants might be as acceptable as free flower seeds, and prove more sustaining in our impending strife with the butcher.

May 24, 1913.

T. S. KENNEDY.

THE COLONIST CONGRATULATIONS.

To the Editor:—Surely the trick of your most esteemed morning contemporary in asking the mayors, as representatives of various towns, picked out to be wide apart, to wire congratulations (c. o. d.) to any paper in its supposed representative capacity, is surely the limit of advertising self-complacency. Had the mayors of these towns in their official capacity voluntarily telegraphed to the mayor of Victoria in his official capacity there would have been some obvious value in the proceeding. But to ask for compliments (c. o. d.) is dragging the citizens of Victoria through the dirt. Then to remark editorially: "The very hearty feeling towards this city expressed in the telegrams is very welcome, etc." is an obvious belittling and a very silly trick, to say the least of it. Of all the cheap clap-net, of all the cheap way of buying compliments for the Conservative government and its sycophants, this is the most pitiful trick extant. Oh, yes, there's an election for sure, and somebody wants a snug place.

Please hold this precious performance up to the ridicule it deserves and please send marked copies of the Times, as the representative paper of the citizens of Victoria, to those distinguished gentlemen, who will no doubt see their names paraded in the wonderful (but most inelegant) form published in your most esteemed contemporary of this morning. Some of them will hardly appreciate the honor.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

An extraordinary and unique character is Sir Walter Strickland, the "anarchist baronet," who was recently reported as passing from his accustomed haunts, but was later discovered in Cordova, Spain, where he said he had fled to escape the English government. Sir Walter, who is the ninth of his line, and whose title dates from 1641, was born sixty-two years ago, and succeeded his father some four years since. A scholar and savant of wide repute, he is also called a gypsy and anarchist, owing to his wandering habits and political theories. He was still a young man when the wanderlust seized him, and since then he has travelled all over the globe, studying the flora and fauna of the countries he visited, and nearly always getting into hot water with their governments. He has written many books and pamphlets violently attacking religion, the state, and the established order generally. He is a linguist of ability, versed in both ancient and modern languages, and won wide fame by his translations of Moliere and Horace. It is said that during his sixty-two years he has spent only a week in London.

Sir Walter declared that he had hidden himself in Spain because he had received a warning "from an absolutely reliable source" that powerful officials were plotting his assassination. In Vienna, the baronet was arrested because it was thought he was Ugo Schenck, a murderer. "This was a great compliment," commented the baronet, "for Schenck was described as extremely handsome and aristocratic looking."

Upon succeeding to the title Sir Walter announced his intention of "removing every scrap of property to the continent, and for the future to have as little as possible to do with England and its people."

In a recent letter to a London newspaper Sir Walter wrote: "The vulgar, ungentlemanly and indeed murderous persecution to which I have been subjected is exclusively British." The "anarchist baronet" comes of an ancient family that had its seat at Strickland in Westmoreland before the Conquest, and one of Sir Walter's ancestors carried the banner of St. George at Agincourt. The Strickland who was the first baronet was a member of the bogus House of Lords during the great rebellion.

Robert William Chambers, the greatest living American novelist—this statement is made on the authority of Ellnor Glyn, who fairly dotes on "Bob"—will pass his forty-eighth milestone to-day. Mr. Chambers was born in Brooklyn, and was an artist and exhibited at the French Salon, before he took up the novel-writing trade. His first novel, "In the Quarter," was published twenty years ago, and has been followed by some thirty others, all highly successful from the financial viewpoint. Indeed, Mr. Chambers is said to have something like a million dollars safely invested, and every cent of it was derived from his something-awfully-naughty - and - shocking - is - just - about - to - happen - but - never - does brand of fiction.

Dr. Robert Mearns Yerkes, the distinguished Harvard psychologist, will celebrate his thirty-seventh birthday to-day. He has lately been conducting elaborate experiments with angle-worms, and has discovered that they have a capacity for suffering pain and also possess the faculty of remembrance. The theory, long held by anglers, that worms do not suffer when placed on a hook is denied by Dr. Yerkes.

Queen Mary Celebrates 40th Birthday To-day.

Queen Mary will be the recipient of congratulations to-day from members of all the royal families of Europe, for this is the forty-sixth anniversary of her birth. King George's consort was born in Kensington Palace on May 26, 1847, nearly two years after the birth of the prince who was destined to be her husband. The Princess of Teck was christened Victoria Mary Augusta Louise Olga Pauline Claudine Agnes, but from her earliest girlhood was known as Princess Mary. In 1881 she was betrothed to the Duke of Clarence, elder son of the Prince of Wales, but he died soon afterward. Twenty years ago this month the announcement of her engagement to Prince George was made, and the marriage took place on July 6, 1893. King George and Queen Mary will thus celebrate their china-wedding anniversary next July.

Queen Mary will doubtless go down to posterity as the type of a model mother, if a somewhat severe and Spartan one. The six children of the Queen have not been indulged or "spoiled," and are consequently far more simple and unaffected in their demeanor and tastes than many children of well-to-do commoners. The Queen has not delegated the rearing of her offspring to underlings, and for years has devoted so much time to their interests that she has no leisure for personal indulgences, and really divides her life between her family and the state.

MEMORANDUM

My First Duty Monday, May 26

I must see that cheap property selling at Esquimalt, knowing as I do that the Dominion Government is about to construct at Esquimalt, one of the world's largest dry docks, and that Esquimalt is destined to be a large commercial centre, I am doing myself an injustice to wait any longer, for the prices are soon to double and I must get in now. The firm of A. D. Malet & Company, fourth floor, Central Building, is the agent, and are offering it on the following terms: One-fourth cash, 6, 12, 18, 24 months, or one-third cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years. Prices range from $1150 to $2500.

The property is located directly opposite the Coach and Horses Hotel on Esquimalt Road, in the business centre and near the Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Yards.

I must remember this important engagement.

LEST I FORGET

divides her life between her family and the state.

Many changes have been made in the royal household arrangements since Queen Mary took charge. One of her first acts was to greatly reduce the number of servants and attendants, and this spirit of business-like economy has been applied to all affairs of the court. The organization and superintendence of the household, in the past always delegated to officials of the court, receives Queen Mary's personal attention. A thousand leaks and sources of waste have been eliminated, and although the staff of servants has been greatly reduced, affairs are now carried on with clockwork regularity, thanks to the increased efficiency.

One of the Queen's greatest tasks, requiring several hours a day, is that of attending to her correspondence. All sorts of people in all parts of the world deluge Queen Mary with letters on all possible subjects, and to all of them the Queen insists on giving her personal attention, whenever possible. The Queen does not receive as many begging letters as an American millionaire, perhaps, but she has more than her share, and quite enough to bankrupt the royal treasury if all the requests were complied with. A majority of those letters take the form of requests for small articles to be sold at auction for the benefit of some church or charity, and these requests come not only from all parts of the Empire, but from the United States and continental Europe. Many of these letter writers calmly suggest that an article of the Queen's own making would be especially appreciated.

The English Queen is a devotee of the needle, but if she plied the needle day and night she could not supply the demand for specimens of her handiwork. As a result of the Queen's example, a needlework cult has sprung up in English society, and threatens to oust bridge, horticulture is another of the Queen's fads. She is very fond of music, and holds a degree of Doctor of Music. She speaks German, French and Italian as perfectly as English. She is very fond of the drama, and hardly ever misses an important new play, and the late King Edward often referred to his daughter-in-law as "our dramatic critic." Her verdict as to the merits of a play is accepted as final by European royalty.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You will make a successful journey and engage in pleasant and profitable activities.

Those born to-day will have energetic and forceful characters, persevering to the utmost in whatever they undertake. It is the duty of their guardians to teach them the true values of worldly things, for they will be as great a power for evil as for good, if influenced wrongly.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

In the North-West Rebellion of 1885, the great danger dreaded for the scattered settlers was a rising of the Indian tribes, whose warriors were still numerous compared to the white men. Early in April, Big Bear's band at Frog Lake had cruelly murdered the priests of the Roman Catholic mission and eight other persons. Another band of Crees, under the chief Poundmaker, also went on the war path, and forced many a lonely settler to flee with his family for refuge to the fort at Battleford. There they were still in danger, but, towards the end of April, Colonel Otter with his brigade made a rapid march to the rescue from Swift Current; and, after resting for a day or two, marched upon the Indians at Cut Knife Creek. They defended themselves vigorously, and Colonel Otter had eight men killed and thirteen wounded, but after the defeat of rebels at Battleford, the capture of Chief General Middleton, and the capture of Poundmaker, the Crees surrendered unconditionally to the commander-in-chief, and, like Big Bear, were tried and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Graeme Mercer Adam, who played an important part in the development of Canadian literature, was born in Edinburgh seventy-four years ago to-day. He was educated in his native city, and came to Canada at the age of nineteen. He became a publisher of books in Toronto, he gradually built up a prosperous business. With Goldwin Smith he founded the Canadian Monthly, and was for a time its editor. He also established the Canadian Educational Monthly. In 1896 he served as the major of militia in repelling the Fenian invasion of Ontario. He wrote a number of books on history and language, including a "History of the Canadian Northwest," a "Life of Sir John A. Macdonald," and a "History of Canadian Literature." He collaborated with Miss Wetherald in writing "An Algonquin Maid," a romance of early Canada. In 1892 he left Canada and became the editor of magazines in New York and Chicago.

One of the last of the Fenian raids took place forty-three years ago to-day. The Fenians had gathered along the Quebec frontier, and the militia were called out to repel the invaders. On May 25, 1870, some 200 Fenians crossed the border and took up a strong position at Eccles Hill, in Massachusetts, but they were driven out by a force of less than eighty militia and farmers. O'Neill, the leader of the raiders, was captured by a United States marshal. This ended the Fenian uprising, with the exception of a brief and futile invasion of Manitoba the following year, which was suppressed by United States troops. The Fenian raids cost the provinces over a million dollars in direct expenditures and much more in damage to business and commerce.

AFRAID OF HIMSELF

A gentleman who is trustee for an estate or is too old to engage in business might be excused for keeping an unnecessary amount of money on deposit in a bank.

If he does not belong to either of the above classes then he is "afraid of himself"; his business training has been neglected and he is doing his fellowmen a great injustice by not keeping his money at work in legitimate channels. If he was gifted with an average amount of brains and interested as he should be in the things that go to build up a prosperous city he should know that he could make four or five times Bank interest on his capital without an atom of chance attached to it.

We trust the above will be food for thought for someone and we stand to back up our arguments with solid facts, and long experience.

OLD ENGLISH FAIR CLOSED WITH SUCCESS

Long Procession of Costumed Dancers and Assistants at Stalls Admired

The Old English Fair, which while it lasted drew all Victoria to the big Skating Arena at the Willows, closed at a late hour on Friday evening with a procession round the hall of all those who had taken any part in the big undertaking, the long march past of costumed dancers, singers, attendants at the bazaar, gypsies, officers, and others, forming a most imposing spectacle as they moved in orderly array around the big hall. Little Mary Rattenbury in her sedan chair borne by Masters Francis Burgoyne Rattenbury and Basil Frampton, forming the centre of a particularly picturesque little group.

The second evening's entertainment went off much better than the previous evening's programme. The dances commenced at an earlier hour, and were carried through with beautiful precision, which, however, in no wise curtailed the leisurely grace of the dancers or the harmonious perfection of the various scenes. An even larger crowd of visitors was present than on the previous evening, and the various stalls did an exceptionally fine business, large sums of money being spent by the onlookers.

During the early part of the programme the numbers were somewhat reversed from their previous order of production in order to enable those who were unable to remain until the close of Thursday's programme to see those dances and tableaux which came toward the end. The Oriental, French and Spanish dances came near the beginning of the evening, the principals in the first being Miss E. M. Bell, as Queen; Miss Mary Boggs, as Spring; Miss Nina Foulkes, as the Trumpeter; Mr. F. Brown, as the East; and Master H. Boggs, as the Herald.

The French dance, in which the ladies appeared in powdered hair and First Empire dresses, and the men in knee breeches and powdered waistcoats, was very much applauded, as on the first night of its production, the Misses Freda Bagshawe, Ermine Bass and Maude Smith, who introduced a scarf dance into this scene being very much admired. Mrs. Henry Pooley and H. J. Davis were encored for their solos in this number, and a very pretty ballet was introduced by Miss Kythe Boulton.

Once again Mrs. Fahey's posing in the tableau of Britannia, and her singing of "Rule Britannia" won well-deserved applause, the fervor and sentiment which she infused in the too often simply enthusiastically patriotic air being worthy of particular notice. No. 1 Company of the 88th Fusiliers, in command of Captain Cullin, paraded to the front of the stage and lined up in front of the platform for this number, at its conclusion leaving the hall in the same order.

The shooting-gallery increased its takings during the second day, and a number of visitors, learning of the "loan exhibition of works of art" at the Lady Douglas Chapter stall paid a visit to this amusing collection. Here also were a number of charming water-colors painted and given by Mrs. Dennis Harris, one of whose pictures was raffled during the evening.

A number of interesting competitions were held, the Navy League Chapter holding a butterfly painting contest which was entered into with great zest by a number of artists. Reeve Rattenbury won an Oriental rug in a raffle held by the Equimult Chapter, while Clarke Gamble won a water-color raffled by the Gonzales Chapter.

The afternoon proceedings once more included solo by Mme. Clarice Davis and Mme. Marie Wood, the latter also assisting at the Camosun stall. The number of visitors throughout both afternoons was much larger than was expected, and crowds of children attended during the day, great interest being taken in the work of the two children's chapters, Equimult and Coronation, and in the part which the children played in the "Living Flag."

NEW TELEPHONE EXCHANGE.

B. C. Telephone Opens New Department at Parkville; Thirty Subscribers.

The B. C. Telephone Company has opened a new exchange at Parkville. Up to this installation there has only been a call station at the junction town. As an earnest that the new department made by the company is appreciated, no fewer than thirty subscribers are now enrolled. The exchange will accommodate fifty.

BIG SURPRISE TO MANY IN VICTORIA

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ka, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. Hall & Co. state that this simple remedy draws off such a surprising amount of old foul matter from the body that A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY.

EMPRESS THEATRE.

The wonderful Edison invention, commonly known as the "talkies," has been tested and proved by Manager Wisner of the Empress theatre, and will be a feature of this week's bill at the vaudeville house. A private view was held at the end of last week after the apparatus had been tried out for some days to bring perfect synchronization with action. The results are perfection and the moving talking pictures, in which the pictures are shown and the verbal messages conveyed at the same time, will henceforth take the place of the Empress "movies."

"QUIET HOUR" AUTHOR ADDRESSES AUDIENCES

S. B. Gordon Speaks to Packed Seats in Methodist and Presbyterian Churches

S. B. Gordon, the well-known author of the "Quiet Hour" series, arrived in Victoria on Saturday by the Seattle boat, and yesterday conducted services in the morning at the Metropolitan Methodist church, choosing as the subject of his discourse "The Relation of Martha, Mary and Lazarus to Our Lord." The church was packed, and the quiet forceful manner of the speaker held the audience spellbound to the last.

In the afternoon Mr. Gordon conducted the services at the Y. M. C. A., where a large number of the members were present. In the evening he preached at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to an overflow congregation, treating his subject again with singular sympathy and understanding.

The author is only a little less famous as a speaker than as a writer, the power of his speaking lying in the mellow yet strong voice, every word of which is easily audible, while the most profound truths are expressed in simple and unaffected language. Born in Philadelphia, he is of old Scottish Covenant stock, and is a brother of Rev. Mr. Gordon, the well-known Congregational minister of Winnipeg. He will remain here until Thursday evening, and is accompanied by his wife.

OVER 5,000 VISITORS HERE FOR HOLIDAY

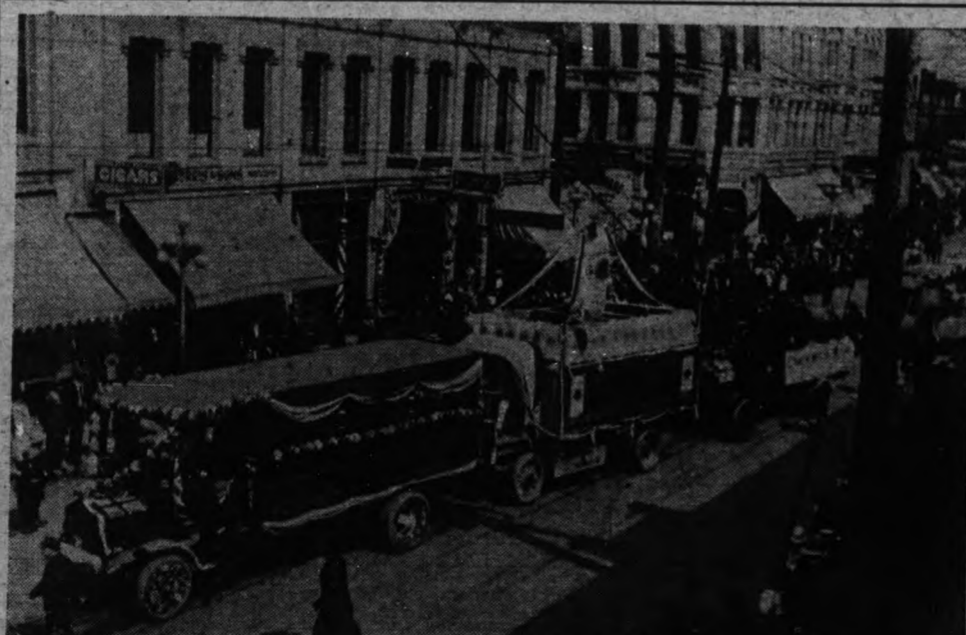

About 5,000 passengers are estimated to have crossed by the Canadian Pacific steamers during the holiday, and from 2,500 to 3,000 to have gone out to other points through the special service. The Princess Charlotte had her full capacity on each run, and the Princess Adelaide had a maximum number for the trip over on the holiday.

All the other boats were filled, and probably there were never more visitors to Victoria than on this holiday. This was due both to the weather and the attractions.

Other vessels using this port brought over large contingents, and with the decorated bunting and flags presented an attractive picture in the inner harbor.

LEAVE FOR EUROPE.

Mr. Angus Campbell, proprietor of the well known firm of Angus Campbell & Co., Ltd., of Government street, left last Friday for Europe, accompanied by his wife. Owing to the rapid extension of the business it was considered necessary this year for two of the principals to make a trip to the continent there to make a personal selection of the great variety of garments which it is necessary for the firm to carry. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, who en route will visit Toronto, Montreal and New York, will return to Victoria about the end of August.

SPECIAL CAR SERVICE

Passengers of Niagara to Be Conveyed Back to Boat in Trams.

The mayor has received a communication from the B. C. Electric Railway Company to the effect that a special service will be kept up from the city to the outer wharf from 12.30 p. m. Wednesday until the Niagara leaves. This was at the request of the civic reception committee which desired that the passengers might have full facilities for returning to the boats after the reception at the Empress hotel.

PROUD OF CONDUCT OF INDIAN WARD

Dominion Constable O'Connell Praises Good Behavior of Thousand Visitors

That genial officer of the peace and good friend of the Vancouver Island Indians, Dominion Constable Thomas O'Connell, returned to Nanaimo on the afternoon train to-day, having seen his charges safely on the way to their homes after their attendance at the annual Victoria Day outing here.

There have been 1,000 Indians in the city for the last fortnight, guests of Chief Michael Cooper and the members of the Songhees tribe at their new reserve at Esquimalt. There were Indians, Kootenays and passives from Cowichan, Kuper Island, Beecher Bay, Spanish, Sooke, Ucluelet and other points in the Gulf islands and the west coast, and there were also 130 members of various tribes over for a friendly visit from reserves in the state of Washington.

For the fortnight there have been festivities going on at the reserve, and on Saturday the Songhees and their visitors mustered in full force at the Gorge to witness the Indian races, and conclude the annual holiday in the capital.

Mr. O'Connell, speaking to a Times reporter this morning, expressed his delight with the conduct of the Indians while they were in the city, and he was assured by members of the Victoria force who were present at the time that he could not say anything too much in praise of the tribes, none of whom have given any trouble during their stay in the vicinity.

The men have been very exemplary in their conduct, Mr. O'Connell said, and only in very rare instances was there any sign of intoxication observed among them. At no time was there any liquor in evidence on the reservation. It was easy to tell from Mr. O'Connell's words and manner that he is an exceedingly proud man as a result of the good behavior of his wards.

He asked the Times to express his thanks to the city and Esquimalt police for the kindness and courtesy extended to him in the discharge of his duties in looking after the large numbers of the Indians who were daily visiting the city from the reserve.

of the Hindus had been driving furiously but were only charged with being drunk.

Rewards for Brave Police.—Gold watches for bravery shown in the rescue of the persons who were on board the tug Nidgo when she went ashore on Macaulay Point in a gale are being presented to the five police officers who took part. The federal government, through the department of marine, is making the award to the widow of the late Sergeant Clayards, to Sergeant Harper, Sergeant Webb, Constable G. Ford and Constable Smith. The presentations will be made as soon as the watches arrive here.

Honor Vocalist.—An interesting luncheon party took place last Friday at the Balmoral hotel, when a dozen gentlemen representing every organization of the First Presbyterian church gathered to honor Robert Morrison, the well-known Scottish baritone, who has given such splendid services to the church for the past seven years. Rev. Mr. Inkster, pastor of the church, presided, and, together with Messrs. Thomson, Cochrane and J. G. Brown, made a short speech, in which he expressed his appreciation of Mr. Morrison's capabilities as a soloist. Mr. Morrison briefly replied, modestly expressing his thanks, and adding that it had given him great pleasure to be able to give his services to the church.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

City Street Cars Carried 67,429 People on Victoria Day.

The street railway traffic figures for Victoria Day this year break all previous records, for 67,429 were actually carried over Victoria lines on Saturday last. This is no less than 18,573 in advance of the previous record which was last year when 49,857 people were carried on the local cars. The traffic on the day previous, that is, May 25 is also well in front of that of the corresponding day last year. The number of passengers travelling on street cars last Friday was 50,484 or a gain of over 11,000 over last year when the figures read 39,511.

LOCAL NEWS

May Inspect Forces.—It is expected that Sir Ian Hamilton, who is coming out to Canada this summer to inspect the Canadian forces, will visit the militia camp at Vernon early next month and later the camp at Sidney, which will be attended by the 6th, the 85th, the 72nd and the 104th.

More on Bill.—The programme at the Westhills hotel each evening is to be augmented this week with the offering of Miss Beverly Ashton, who has just come to the city to take part. She is a soubrette and will present an act which has gained her popularity in other places. Besides Miss Ashton there will be Miss Edith James, prima donna, who will contribute to the programme.

Will Enter Appeal.—In the case of Leo Chong, convicted of the theft of a gun and sentenced on Friday to imprisonment for two years, an appeal is to be entered by his counsel, R. C. Lowe. One ground for the appeal is that the date of the offence was altered in the bill of indictment from December 22 to August 22 by the court, it being argued that such a change can only be made by the grand jury. Objection will also be taken to portion of the judge's charge.

Put 200 Men to Work.—As soon as the matter of taking over the Westhills Company's equipment at Sooke Lake is settled by the court to-morrow City Engineer East stated this morning that he would put 100 men at work at Sooke Lake and another 100 in the other part of the water plant. This is possible now that the city's bonds have been sold and the money is available.

Fractures an Arm.—Falling from aloft on H. M. C. S. Rainbow this morning, Able Seaman Munro fractured the upper part of his arm, which doubled under him as he struck the deck below. He was removed to the military hospital for treatment, where he is now receiving medical attention. The seaman missed his footing.

To Attend Ceremonial.—All Dokeys are reminded of the big ceremonial in Vancouver Wednesday night, May 28, in connection with the sitting of the grand lodge. The Votaries are requested to meet at the Vancouver boat at 2 o'clock Wednesday for the purpose of leaving at 2.30 p. m. The Dokey band will meet the boys at the wharf in Vancouver.

Holiday Results.—Although three days had elapsed since the last session of police court there was not a great array of cases on the book this morning. Most of the culprits were brought in on Friday afternoon and evening. There were no white men arrested on Victoria Day, the defendants being all Indians—Hindus and coast aborigines. One arrest was made yesterday. Three

ORANGEMEN ATTEND CHURCH.

A large congregation assembled yesterday afternoon at St. John's church for the special services held for the Orangemen and Sons of England, who paraded in strong force to the building shortly after 3 o'clock. Numerous outsiders also attended the services, and nearly every seat in the big building was taken. Rev. A. J. Stanley Arden gave a strong address urging patriotism and allegiance to the teachings of Christianity.

RAIDED OPIUM JOINT.

On Saturday afternoon Detective Heather raided premises in Theatre Alley, which he had reason to believe were being run as an opium joint. He found that his suspicions had sound ground, and as a result of his visit he placed Ah Sing and Hang under arrest.

At the time of his unexpected call the men had a quantity of opium prepared for smoking and were ready for customers. When they discovered that their call was not a customer looking for "hop" they threw the pipes and the rest of the outfit out of a window, and the detective had to climb up on an adjoining building and out on the roof to recover the necessary evidence of the offence he intended to charge against the men.

In police court this morning the two were charged with being in possession of opium prepared for smoking. They were present and were also represented by W. C. Morenby, who secured a remand until Wednesday.

BONFIRE ON HILL.

One of the features of the evening celebration on Victoria Day was a bonfire on the southeastern point of Gonzales Hill, lighted by C. C. Pemberton, as part of the scheme in which such fires were to be set off at many points in the Empire on May 24. The blaze was fully 200 feet above the water level and, although the strong wind prevented it reaching as high as calm weather would have allowed, it was visible for many miles across the waters. It was lighted at 9.15 p. m. and was permitted to burn for 20 minutes.

To Our Friends and Neighbors

You know us. You know we would not—that we could not afford to—go back on our word. Nor can you afford to ignore this money-back-if-not-satisfied offer on this splendid laxative.

We honestly believe we have the best bowel remedy ever made—the most pleasant-tasting, most permanently beneficial laxative for relief from the miseries and dangers arising from constipation.

We wouldn't say this if we didn't believe it to be true. We wouldn't risk our reputation by making such statements did we not feel sure you would find them true.

Our faith is built both on the knowledge of what Rexall Orderlies are made of and on observation of very many severe cases in which they have proven their merit.

Try them at Our Risk

If they do not abundantly prove their merit you also—if you are not entirely satisfied with them—we will refund your money—and we will do that on your mere say-so. We don't ask you to risk a penny, but just fair!

Just let the bowels fall in properly doing their work—just let their action be delayed and uncomfortable and the entire system and every other organ suffers. Wastes that

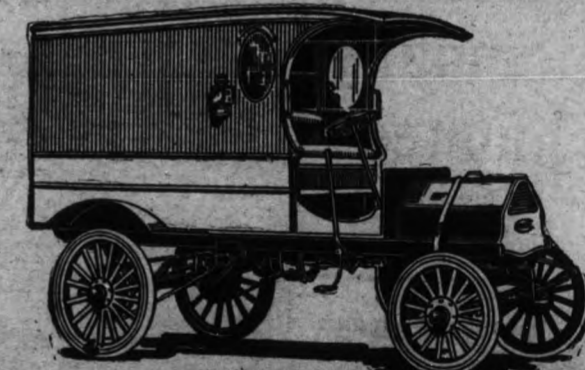

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all drug stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at the Rexall Stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

PREMIER HERE

Accompanied by Brother-in-Law J. M. Young; Looking Over Fruit Holdings

Hon. Water Scott, the brilliant young premier of Saskatchewan, was in the city for a few hours on Saturday prior to leaving again on Sunday morning for Regina. Thus he had an opportunity of witnessing some of the celebrations for Victoria Day.

Hon. Mr. Scott, who appeared much more robust than formerly, was accompanied here by J. M. Young, his brother-in-law, who is a prominent merchant of Regina. The first minister of Saskatchewan said that his trip west was purely of a pleasure-seeking nature.

HON. WALTER SCOTT
Premier of Saskatchewan, who was in the city on Victoria Day.

As a matter of fact he owns some large fruit areas in the Okanagan valley, and he was anxious to look over them. Naturally he continued his trip westward to the coast, and this city.

Mr. Young, who takes a great interest in agricultural activities of all kinds, was vastly taken with the wonderful fruit wealth of the Okanagan, and in speaking on this subject remarked that the Saskatchewan legislature, which was very anxious to assist the immigrant farmer, had sent two representatives to accompany the delegation of United States agriculturists through the countries of Europe on an extensive study of the co-operative system.

The premier and Mr. Young, who were both delighted with their short stay, left for the east again on the Sunday morning boat.

MANAGER TALKS ON AUSTRALIAN TEAM

One of Best That Ever Came Out of the Commonwealth

THINKS TOUR WILL POPULARIZE GAME

Teams for First International Game Next Thursday; Match Starts 10.30

That the visiting Australian cricket team will leave Canada with the major portion of their games to their credit, and incidentally with a large amount of information about Canada, gained at first hand, was the opinion expressed by R. B. Benjamin, manager of the team, when seen by the Times this morning.

"Do you think this great venture will be a success?" he was asked.

"Positively so; it is an assured success before we start, and I think we shall win all our games besides showing them throughout Canada and America finer cricket than the people have been used to seeing.

"Our tour will be a tremendous boom to the great old game as when other countries see that the Australians can carry out such a remarkable tour they naturally will be doing the same, and that is what is required to make the game here."

"What do you think of our cricketers?"

"You have plenty of good material, but they require a little more stamina and grit as they seem to lose heart when opposed to a strong team. I hope this will not be the case next Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

"I think your proposition to play the juniors is a good one. I have followed the game so long and like it so much that it is a delightful pleasure for me to advance the boys, and I am sure they will be delighted to play against our team. They are fortunate in having such a fine tutor as Crawford Cocks, a veteran who has a fine record and knows every inch of the game."

"When will you play this junior team?"

"About the end of September on our return here."

The Australian Team.

"Our team consists of five young cricketers, as good a team as anyone would wish to see, some have made their reputations at the Oval and Lord's in England, and others have come forward so much this season that they are considered amongst the best we have in Australia, and that is saying something. Imagine the combination of Macartney and Bardsley, Crawford and Mayne, Emery and Collins, the stumping of Campbell the batting of Arnott, Down and Diamond, the goosy bowling of Malley, and the all round play of Cody. I should say it is a strong side and under the captainship of that sturdy and well liked cricketer, Edgar Mayne, the side would be hard to beat in any part of the world."

"Besides we know the whole world have their eyes on us, and we will elevate the game all through Canada and America, and I feel sure all cricket enthusiasts in Australia will be proud of their boys when they return."

"It is to be hoped that the general public will attend these games in great numbers as Victoria is to be honored with the opening match, and this is the first occasion which a cricket team has ever made a tour of Canada and America during the cricket season."

The teams for Thursday's game:
Australia—Edgar Mayne, (Capt.), South Australia; C. G. Macartney, N. S. Wales; J. N. Crawford, South Australia; Warren Bardsley, N. S. Wales; Syd Emery, N. S. Wales; L. A. Cody, N. S. Wales; A. Malley, N. S. Wales; P. S. Arnott, N. S. Wales; G. S. Down, South Australia; H. L. Collins, New South Wales; G. C. Campbell, South Australia; A. Diamond, New South Wales (twelfth man).
